'See How They Run' Is Fast-Moving Fun

By NITA HARD
MA. 4-3224

The American Winter Olympic effort might have been improved had some of the fast-moving ingenuity of the "See How They Run" cast been incorporated.

Philip King's lively three-act comedy is producing some top-notch sprinters. Director Paul Bergerson sets a speedy pace as the members of the Franklin Village Players who will be offering "See How They Run" at the Farmington Branch March 6, 7, 13 and 14.

FITTING THE parts as though they were written exactly for them are Mrs. Ray Mann, Mrs. Oliver Garwood, James O'Neill, Mrs. John Roberts, Robert D. Herley, Harold Rowe, Dr. Harlow Bates and Don Olie.

Mrs. Philip Price is assisting direction and Chet Hard has backstage committees all primed for the moment when staging can become a reality. Until now they have been rehearsing in a vacant store and in homes.

THE BOWLING Clinic held on Saturday for Franklin youths at Strike 'n Spare Lanet was another success for the Franklin Community Association. Forty-eight youngsters from six to 14 rolled 'em under the guidance of professional Elton Gorman.

Skiing with friends last week in the Laurentian Mountains was Mrs. Raymond Marx of Apple Tree Lane. Explorer Troop 1011 tried the slopes at Caberfas last Sunday.

THE COUPLES' CLUB had it pretty soft last Friday night when they gathered at the Walter Etheridges, 6789 Induswood Trail, for an oriental dinner.

Each brought a picture of a dining facilities were arranged at long low tables, using chopsticks as the principal utensil. The committee, headed by Mr. and Mrs. John McLean, were dressed in Oriental costumes and special Far East foods were prepared to carry out the theme.

FRANKLIN VILLAGE Players are augmenting their eleventh season with a bus trip to see Dearborn Players' production of "Wildcat".

Mr. and Mrs. M. Spindler of Ramble Road have been taking reservations for Feb. 22, when the group will hold their business meeting on wheels as they roll merrily down Telegraph, then join the Saturday night audience.

Westmaple Nursery Slates Open House

Westmaple Nursery will host its annual Parent-Teacher open house on Feb. 23 beginning at 4 p.m. The children of the school will give a short program, demonstrating some of their activities. Color slides will be shown of the children at work and play during school hours.

Bride-Elect

Mr. and Mrs. Adam Kutcher of Britner Ct., Birmingham, announce the engagement of their daughter, Diane Annette, to Carl Bruce Babcock, Jr., son of Carl Babcock of East Tawas and Mrs. Ora Laney of Phoenix, Ariz. An October wedding is planned.

To Marry

The engagement of Jacqueline J. Werner and John F. Bammel was announced at a dinner party held recently in the S. Lincoln Road home of the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Paul Werner. Parents of the prospective bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Bammel of Bloomfield Hills. Miss Werner attended Delta College, where she was affiliated with Kappa Sigma Tau Sorority and her fiancé is attending General Motors Institute, where he is a member of Alpha Tau Omega Fraternity.

Engagement

Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. Ghesquiere of Franklin Road announced the engagement of their daughter, Barbara Sue, to Franklin Michael Love, son of Fred Love of Pontiac. Both young people are graduates of Ferris State College, where the bridegroom-elect is still attending for further study. He is affiliated with Theta Xi Fraternity. An Aug. 29 wedding date has been set.
