Taylor Quits Post to Run For Congress

Oakland County Prosecutor George F. Taylor turned in his letter of resignation Tuesday—as he said he would—in order to campaign for the Republican nomination for Congress in the new 19th district.

Taylor's decision was almost immediately followed by announcements from his three senior assistant prosecutors stating that they were available for their boss's job. Robert L. Templin is considered the leading contender for the appointment, over Jerome K. Berry and William E. Lang.

EFFECTIVE DATE of the resignation is March 31.

The county's seven Circuit Court judges will meet at a later date to appoint a new prosecutor that will serve Taylor's unexpired term, which lasts the rest of 1964.

Taylor was unavailable for comment as he is attending a prosecuting attorneys' convention in Phoenix, Ariz.

Candidates

Foundation Torch Drive collector for 14 years, has served on the Birmingham election board for two years and is currently the president of the Quarten PTA.

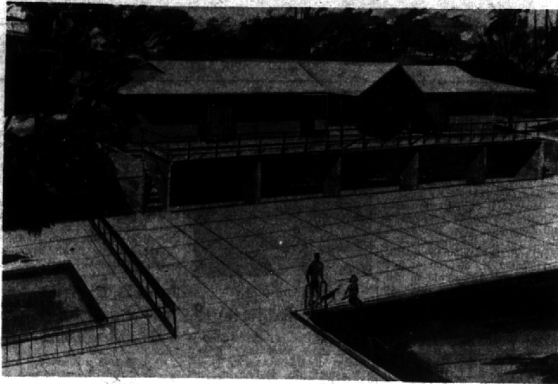

Also running for the commission are Charles F. Clippert, 1792 Pine, and Stanley J. Fiol, 682 W. Frank.

CLIPPERT, AN attorney, is a graduate of the University of Michigan. He is active in the various bar associations, the Friends of Baldwin Library, the National Trust for Historic Preservation and the Cranbrook Institute of Science.

FIOL, 48, is an engineer with the Ross Operating Valve Co. of Detroit. A Birmingham resident for 25 years, he has been active in the Little League baseball program, the Boy Scouts and was a former board member of the Baldwin PTA.

ARTHUR J. UNDERWOOD, JR., 898 Hobegan, an incumbent, and newcomer B. James Theodoroff, 1108 W. 14 Mile, are both assured of seats on the library board.

EDWIN S. SNYDER, 823 Colonial Court, a library board member since 1957, is not a candidate for re-election.

Orchard Valley Swim Club

Groundbreaking ceremonies for the Orchard Valley Swim Club were held last Thursday in West Bloomfield Township with Supervisor John C. Rehard and Chuck McPhee, president of the corporation, turning over the first spadeful of earth. The club, to cost $150,000, will serve residents of Franklin Valley, Franklin Knolls, Briarcliff and Kimberly North subdivisions. The complex will include a heated Olympic pool, a wading pool, a bath house, parking area, tennis and badminton courts, ice skating facilities, shuffleboard courts and a picnic area. The club, to be located on a five-acre site at the northwest corner of Kimberly North subdivision, is scheduled for completion June 1.

Name Cole to Township Citizens' Committee

The appointment of General Motors Vice-President Edward N. Cole, 1371 Kirkway, as the 18th member of the Citizens' Committee for Local Government was approved by the Bloomfield Township board Monday night.

The committee will hold its first meeting Tuesday night at the township hall.

Other business concluded by the township board was adoption of the Building Official's Conference of America building code by reference to govern local construction.

THE CODE, which replaces the Detroit building code, was adopted on the recommendation of building inspector Harold Shoof. Shoof told the board he would propose within a month several amendments to the new code to meet local problems.

The board also approved several zoning changes recommended by the planning commission.

Property on the west side of Telegraph from Sandilwood to Cedarbrook was rezoned from one-family to multiple-family.

Eight hundred and eighty five feet of residential property on the east side of Telegraph south of the commercial corner at Maple was rezoned to office use. Corner lots of Fairlane Drive were included.

The depth of commercial frontage on the west side of Woodward south of Square Lake road was extended an additional 31 feet and 53 feet of residential property immediately behind the commercial was rezoned for parking. An A & P store is planned for the location.

AN ORDINANCE requiring erection of a six-foot fence between residential property and apartment house parking lots was adopted. An ordinance requiring a lot originally left out of water and sewer assessment districts to share the cost if it ever uses the facilities, was also passed.

Two petitions for water mains were accepted. One will bring water to Shallowbrook and Pemberton Roads at an estimated cost of $688 per home. The other will accommodate portions of Devon Hills subdivisions.

A low bid of $21,685 for construction of a water main on Woodward south of Big Beaver was accepted from Gay Bros. Construction Co.

The Shikari Look debuts this Spring in men's lightweight felt headwear. Adapted from the rugged headwear identified with big game hunters in India and Africa—Shikari is a Hindu word meaning big game hunter—the dramatic new style features a convertible brim that may be worn either with a conventional brim-snap or turned down all around. For the younger men and teens, the new look will be the Slipstream—a pared-down sculptured shape with a young aggressive air.

The Community House

At The Community House, we try to be all things to all people. Even with our many versatile facilities, it's quite an order.

Pictured here are some of your friends . . . or neighbors . . . or maybe even someone you love. If it weren't for your continuing generosity these pictures wouldn't be possible.

So that we may continue serving the Greater Birmingham Community in the manner you have become accustomed, it is vitally important that we realize this year's goal of $55,000.

Won't you take a minute to send along a check for whatever you can afford. Of course it's deductible and we do need the money!

The Community House

Service clubs find The Community House an ideal place to hold their meetings—and the food's good, too.

Classes in the creative arts are a regular part of the Community House curriculum.

Youth groups, like these "Brownies," use The Community House for many of their activities.

Dancing doesn't come easy to four-year-olds—but The Community House is a good place to start learning.
