Mrs. Beaumont has two lunch hours

Yours and hers. Because many people bank from 12:00 to 2:00, Mrs. Beaumont spends your lunch hour on the job—takes Mrs. earlier. She and other members of the staff at Manufacturers Bank rotate their hours so that you will receive prompt, courteous service whether you bank in the morning, noon, or afternoon. Whatever your banking needs, you can count on the kind of service that makes people pleased to say, "Manufacturers, that's my bank." Make it yours.

Potpourri

By JULIE CANDLER
Special Writer

It wasn't enough for longtime bachelor L. James Schneider to fall in line by getting married recently. Now he and his new bride are getting in a chorus line together.

They'll be among the dancing girls and boys in the St. Dunstan's Guild spring production of "Brigadoon," musical show set in Bonnie auld Scotland.

Jim was a stalwart among Birmingham-Bloomfield supporters of music and theatre before he was married. He's a former president of Cranbrook Music Guild. He handled huge responsibilities for several Birmingham Arts Festivals and St. Dunstan's Guild productions.

Now that he's been hooked, it looks like there will be two Schneiders in there pitching for the good life in Bloomingham.

BACK AT "BRIGADOON" rehearsals, Isabel (Mrs. Charles) Himelhoch of Birmingham is polishing up the lead feminine role. She's attractive, talented, a marvelous pianist and impressive composer.

Besides that, according to Jim, "She's sharpening up a mean Scottish brogue."

IF YOU WANT to brighten the day of a librarian at Baldwin Public Library in Birmingham, it's easy. We learned the secret recently from Head Librarian Jeanne Lloyd and Louise Millman of her staff.

They become a little sad when library users look at a "Les Miserables" or "Gone With the Wind" and ask, "Do you have this book in digest form?"

The seeker after condensed versions is showing up more frequently these days. His desire for hurry-up literature is spoiling some of the librarian's enjoyment of her work.

To make her happy, Potpourri has it straight from Baldwin, just walk up to your librarian and say, "I would like a good, thick, l-o-n-n-g-g-g book."

THERE'S A SEQUEL to our report of the new baby at the Cyprus home of Lt. and Mrs. John Lacy. Mother and baby arrived home from the hospital in Nicosia the day the shooting started.

A few weeks later, the American block warden told them they were "on alert."

The couples' Pontiac station wagon was set afire and gutted in the dark of the night Feb. 4. At 9:30 a.m. the next day Jan Lacy was told to be packed and ready to evacuate by 1 p.m.

She and the new baby, along with other American wives and children were flown to Beirut, Lebanon.

There she remains, according to the last word piped in. Lt. Lacy (formerly of Bloomfield Hills) is back in their home on the troubled island of Cyprus.

WE DIDN'T GET at any cultural events this week end, other than "Tom Jones" (what a boy!). But we did cover a small fire at the Northland Shopping Center Kroger store.

Most exciting part of the fire was encountering two Birmingham Eccentric readers, Mr. and Mrs. Norman England, 27371 Eldorado, Lathrup Village. We saw them rush out, along with stock boys and cashiers, as the smoke began filling the supermarket.

Mrs. England was rightfully annoyed after spending 45 minutes filling a cart with groceries and being forced to leave them before they were checked out.

She stood outside the door and watched the smoke billowing up as long as she could stand it. Then she marched back into the nearly-evacuated store and emerged wheezing her cartload of food.

Potpourri piped up, "Did you pay for those?"

"No, I couldn't," said Mrs. England, "but I wanted those groceries!"

sumed in filling a cart with bread, eggs, butter, Wheaties and like that, we don't blame Mrs. England one bit for rushing back into a burning building to retrieve her haul.

When we left, she was waiting for the smoke to clear so she could go back and pay up.

P.S. Another Chamber Music Society concert comes up at 8:30 p.m. March 17 at the Community Arts Auditorium on the Wayne State University campus. Lots of Birmingham music-lovers will be there to hear Mischa Kottler, Josef Gingold and George Miquele.

Ends Basic Training

William M. Keely, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer J. Keely of 4166 Rouge Circle, Birmingham, completed basic training at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

The nine-week training includes naval orientation, history and organization, seamanship, ordnance and gunnery, military drill, first aid and survival.

She continued her professional work at the Orthogenic School in Detroit. She is the author of several publications and articles for professional journals, served as chairman of the Michigan Branch of the Korschach Institute and was a member of its national executive committee.

Wins acceleration, handling, gas economy— "things you buy a car for." Plymouth also costs least* and carries the only 5-year/50,000-mile warranty*

Plymouth makes it three in a row!

First it was Sobering, Fla. Then, Raceway Park in Indianapolis. This time it was Watkins Glen, N. Y., where a 1964 Plymouth Fury beat a 1964 Chevrolet Impala and Ford Galaxie "500" in 9 out of 10 official tests.

The cars were showroom models with standard V-8 engines (not the big jobs, like the maximum performance "426" that powered Plymouth to a 1-2-3 sweep of the Daytona "500"). And the tests were of "things you buy a car for"—acceleration, handling, gas economy. As the results box shows, Plymouth accelerated best, handled best, and got the best gas mileage.

Results show one other important thing: Of the three cars tested, Plymouth costs least. If this is the year you picked to buy a new car, you picked a beautiful year to get up and go Plymouth!

*Competition-equipped Plymouths used 426-cu.-in. Super Commando V-8s designed especially for racing.
