

Shoes for Spring

An "alive with youth" style is featured in women's shoes for spring. The Puppet (left) features a cut-out for the new lacey look in a rainbow choice of bon bon colors. For social calendar occasions, afternoon, late-day or evening the exclusive Bright (center) stained glass patent in multi colors or tranquil mingles of coffee or pear to gray. The Waldorf (right) is an afternoon pump in a duet of textures; frosted patent and softly frosted lustrous calf.

Fashion Highlights

It looks like a strong Spring for silk shantung in ties—in bright colors. Oranges and yellows are typical of the shades being shown... The highly-practical wash and wear shirts of man-made fibers in a tricot construction are also becoming fashion leaders with some of the new, smart patterns that are constantly being introduced.

Do not depend on the original adjusting of belt or suspenders to keep your trousers hanging properly. Suspenders and belts often stretch or slip, and need re-adjustment... If you want to be sure to have fresh, clean shirt cuffs for an important lunch date, fold them up neatly (do not roll) when donning the shirt in the morning. When you unfold them, they'll be crisp and neat.

Mix 'n Match Fun for Now

It's fun to be a Mixer, and if you don't agree, you will after you see the big mix that's taken place among many of spring's newest fashions.

Remember when it was strictly taboo to mix dots with stripes—or worse yet to mix a flower print with stripes and dots. Well, this season it's the way to do things smartly, if you are artistic enough to know when to stop.

But for those who know when to stop, but not how to begin, there are dresses rightly blended with these patterns just waiting for you to add a new headband or scarf that plays up this mixed up idea.

Down, Down They Plunge

Down, down, down go necklines after dark—way down!

They plunge. Make a deep V. They're slashed. They curve. They meet the waistline high up in the Empire cut, or dip lower to a slightly raised waist. But they are never the old scooped-out cut with sleeves.

These no-holds-barred dresses are in cocktail and full-lengths. They're in chiffon, crepe, silk faille, and very very often in lace.

The nice thing about these low-down necklines is that they are still basically modest while being marvelously feminine. Husbands will approve them, even on their wives!

Care of Clothes

It is claimed that because of their greater elasticity, hand-sewn buttonholes render much longer service than those made by machine... Underarm shields in good suits are a great asset in winter, as well as in summer. Worn-out shields can be replaced more economically than body and sleeve linings.
