B'ham Collegians Are BWOC

Sandra Sarnes, sophomore at Olivet College and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell F. Sarnes of 6009 Kings Gate Way, Bloomfield Hills, was selected the Collegiate Snow Queen during festivities at Marquette recently.

The Collegiate Snow Queen contest is an annual statewide event hosted by Northern Michigan University in Marquette. This year Sandra was competing with representatives from 11 other universities.

Each contestant was judged on the basis of beauty, talent, personality, appearance and the poise she maintained throughout. In addition to all these qualities, she is maintaining a high academic standing. She made the Dean's list last semester.

Upon graduation, Sandra plans to go into retailing. She would like to be a buyer of women's apparel.

Activities while at Bloomfield High School include: A member of the Homecoming court in both her sophomore and senior years; Student Council representative, Spanish Club treasurer and a member of the "Jills," a notable group of singers that has toured the state.

A MONTICELLO COLLEGE senior from Birmingham has been chosen as the college's representative to Glamour Magazine's contest for the "10 Best Dressed College Girls" in the nation.

Andrea Slickel has long been recognized for her neatness and impeccable grooming. She is Student Council president and a leading member of many organizations. She is also responsible for showing guests the campus. Last year Andie was recognized as one of the best dressed girls of her class.

Her busy schedule of various activities includes the Monticello Recreation Association, Honor Board, Disciplinary Board, Food Committee, Senior Staff and the tennis team. However, Andie always has that special look which has led her to be chosen as Monticello's candidate for nationwide recognition.

A council of administration, faculty and students selected six candidates, three from each of the two college classes. These six girls were then nominees for which the entire student body voted. Each candidate modeled three outfits in an all-school assembly on the Hatheway Hall stage.
