

Art Classes Sponsored By Westchester Women

By ELEANOR NELSEN
MI 7-9056

The Westchester Women's Club is sponsoring an art group. At the present time the members are taking instructions from Leon Jewell of Royal Oak. Mr. Jewell received his background at the American Academy of Arts and also majored in the history of arts at Michigan State University.

At the present time he is doing commercial art work and is a technical illustrator. He is well-known for his personal tutoring and for classes in both oils and pastels. There are still a few openings in the classes for women of the Westchester area. For further information you may contact Mrs. Joseph McNernery, 724 Westbourne Drive.

ARMED WITH empty baskets and bags, the children of the Cranbrook-Maple area are looking forward to Saturday. On that day the elusive Easter Bunny will be hiding gaily wrapped eggs on the grounds of the Westchester School so that they may enjoy a good old fashioned Easter egg hunt.

The school grounds will be platted off into three areas so that the younger children will be given a fair chance on the hunting. They will be grouped into toddlers through 5, 6 through 8 and then the 9 through 11.

Chairman of the event is Jack Tuckfield who will be assisted by the block captains of the association in the area.

TO CELEBRATE a golden wedding anniversary in a platoon not many couples reach a lifetime but Mr. and Mrs. John D. Simmers of Detroit reached theirs on Saturday, March 21.

At a reception hosted by their children John M. Simmers and Mrs. John Bryant, both of Bloomfield Hills, over a hundred relatives and friends gathered to honor the couple at the Botzford Inn.

Among the guests were three grandchildren, Richard S. and Lynne Simmers and John W. Bryant. Before retirement Mr. Simmers was an official of the Anchor Steel and Conveyor Co. The Simmers are charter members of the Bushnell Congregational Church and of North Woodside Park Civic Association.

MRS. JERRY MRLIK and Mrs. Robert Denholm hosted a luncheon in the Mrlík home on Halyard Road on March 18. Guest of honor was Mrs. Edward Koback.

The Koback family will be leaving the area soon on a move to Port Huron. Attending the luncheon to say a "fond farewell" to Mrs. Koback were Mrs. Maxwell Casey, Mrs. Frank Czarniecki, Mrs. Thomas Holmes, Mrs. Vincent Johnson, Mrs. William Jones, Mrs. Donald Karrov.

Others were Mrs. Michael Lukon, Mrs. Russell Pumber, Mrs. William Rosnyal, Mrs. Robert Shegal, Mrs. Gene Stohler and Mrs. Alvin Wagstaff. The ladies presented Mrs. Koback with a black self handbag as a remembrance gift.

BOB DAVISSON, son of Mr. Robert Davison of Meadowlark, feels as though "everything has gone up in smoke" and he's so right.

Bob, who is a student at Tarkio College in Tarkio, Mo., witnessed the burning of a boys' dormitory on the school campus. Fortunately there were no casualties but nothing remained but embers of what were at one time clothing, books and precious notes.

New chairman of the Towns Group of Westchester Village is Mrs. Denton Hassell of Pebble Lane. The women in the area interested in this group meet once monthly for luncheon at various dining places and then take a tour of interesting spots in and around the Detroit area.

BRIDGE CHAIRMAN of the Westchester area, Mrs. Frank Starr of Westbourne Drive, is on the lookout for substitute players. If you enjoy the game but do not like being tied down to regular monthly games, Mrs. Starr would appreciate a call from you.

BON VOYAGE was the theme of a luncheon held by Mrs. Robert Davison of Meadowlark on Thursday, March 12. Guests were Mrs. Stewart Wilson, Mrs. Hugh Dunbar, Mrs. Russell Pumber, Mrs. John Szydman, Mrs. Thomas Holmes and Mrs. Robert Denholm.

Others were Mrs. Frank Wickham and Mrs. William O'Connor, all of the Meadowlark area and Mrs. William Mosler of Flint. Invited but unable to attend were Mrs. Ronald Dunbar and Mrs. Vincent Johnson. The ladies presented the travelers with token and useful gifts.

IT'S "WELCOME back" to the Walter Mitchell family of S. Cranbrook Cross. They were former residents of S. Cranbrook Road until Mitchell's business took him east, to Connecticut, where they thought they might live for a normal length of time, but within five months he was transferred back to this area so they were most happy to be able to settle down in familiar territory, particularly for the sake of their youngsters, Bob, Scott and Stevie.

Caution is the keyword at the Norman Duke household on Middlebury Lane. All winter members of the family have been having that dragged-out feeling. Physical checkups couldn't find the answer to their problems even though the feeling persisted.

Seems they had had a faulty hot water heater and were slowly being asphyxiated by the fumes. It was when thinking of how they have averted a tragedy.

SUBURBAN SCENE

a couple of weeks, after which Goran will spend a few days in Kansas City visiting the family of his American-abroad brother who was with him in Sweden last summer.

Samia Seleh, here from Egypt and attending Bloomfield Hills High, will catch her first glimpse of the Smokies and Gatlinburg, Tenn., when she takes off this week with the Donald Hydes. Her cousin, Olaf O'Brien (Iceland), by dining with the Cyril Perlman, will visit cousins in Wichita, Kan.

Gayle Coppen is staying home during spring vacation, so she can meet American relatives coming to visit Mr. and Mrs. Noree Alix of W. Bloomfield. Gayle is also looking ahead to June when her brother, studying in England, will arrive to spend two weeks with her. Rhodesia is their home.

Going along on the Washington Trip from Groves will be Marie Burbano, Ecuador; Peter Poldervaard, Belgium, and Noelene Jones, Australia.

In the group going from Seaholm are Francois Deriox, France; Ragnar Carstam, Sweden, and Maria Thieleman, Chile.

Children's Day At DAC

Mrs. Magnus M. Burgess of Country Club Drive, Bloomfield Hills, will return Friday from an extended stay at Delray Beach, Fla., and will entertain at a family dinner at the DAC Easter Sunday.

In the group will be her son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. Thomas S. Torgerson, and their young sons, Tommy and Richard; Dr. Torgerson's mother, Mrs. Thomas E. Torgerson; Mrs. Burgess' brother-in-law and sister, the Alfred J. Mackseys, and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred J. Macksey, Jr., with their two children, Kathy and Teddy.

They will be one of many family parties at the club between noon and 8 p.m., as the busy day managerie of live bunnies, chicks, ducklings and Mary's lamb.

Mrs. William F. Armstrong of Bloomfield Ct., Birmingham, will be an Easter dinner hostess to her son, daughter-in-law and grandchildren, Mr. and Mrs. R. Thomas Armstrong with Nancy, Mary, Colleen, Janice, Tommy and Lisa, and also to a trio of friends including Mr. and Mrs. Alfred I. Hawkins and Mrs. Edna Armstrong.

The D. A. Packards of Bloomfield Ct. will have as their guests Marvin Wilson and his son and daughters, including Tom, Pam, Patty, Peggy and Penney. The Gerald W. Diehls have reservations for a dozen — their children are Gregg, Jeffrey and Edward.

Dr. and Mrs. Don W. McLean of Lathrup Village will have their family with them, and in the party of 11 will be their son-in-law and daughter, the Robert Reiseigs, and Bobby and Janet Reiseig, and their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. David McLean with Jeffrey. Others with reservations are Mr. and Mrs. John R. Gnaul of Abbey Road, Birmingham, with a group of 21.

ANN BULLOCK WITH SOUVENIR

Camel's Saddle Now Part of the Decor

By MARTI CAHN

Bill Bullock of Tilbury Road has no intention of adding a camel to his household, so daughter Ann is using her camel's saddle as a foot stool.

The saddle also serves as a reminder of a unique shopping experience and a lesson learned on Ann's recent "round-the-world" trip as a student with the University of the Seven Seas.

The floating school, anchored in the Suez Canal, was approached by vendors in row boats with wares for sale. Ann admired a hassock, for which she offered a pair of sweat pants and sweat socks — bargain was confirmed and the salesman tossed a rope for Ann to pull up a basket tied to the other end. She deposited her clothing in the basket and lowered it to the waiting vendor who changed his mind about selling the hassock, also REFUSED to return the clothing!

A tug-of-war ensued over the rope. Ann tying her end securely to a rail! The results were a broken rope and an angry salesman, who departed shouting imprecations but with pants, socks and hassock in his possession.

ON THE following day, shopping by the same procedure at Port Said, a wiser Ann had in her possession a camel's saddle before she departed, with three bars of soap and a raincoat as payment.

The three-and-a-half month trip, which took in twenty-two ports, included a tour of Jerusalem with a visit to the Mount of Olives, Garden of Gethsemane and the Church of All Nations. India included a visit to Agra, site of the magnificent Taj Mahal, and an excursion to the fortified city of Amber, highlighted by an elephant ride to its top. From Port Swettenham, Malaya, the group traveled to nearby Kuala Lumpur to be entertained at a Christmas Eve dinner hosted by the Prime Minister.

Shopping in Hong Kong was a special treat for Ann, as was a day spent in Singapore as guest of See Foon Chan, a friend who was an AFS student in New York last year.
