BEHIND the STORE FRONTS With Angus McKellar

Ray Peck, who with his brother, Vic, has operated Peck's Tailors and Men's Wear at 108 S. Woodward for longer than many Birminghamites can remember, is recuperating at his home from a lengthy illness. He hopes to be back at the store in another week.

PAUL T. SPRINZ, formerly of Evanston, Ill., will be moving his family to 3076 Oakland Drive as of April 9. Residents of Evanston for the past 18 years, Sprinz was western advertising manager of Esquire Magazine, in Chicago. He is now assuming the responsibilities of Detroit advertising manager for Esquire.

Sprinz was formerly a member of Knollwood Country Club and the Illinois Athletic Club. His wife, Mrs. Joanne Y. Sprinz, was a member of the local Junior League. Their children, Pamela Toni, a senior at Garland College in Boston, and Peter Timothy, a junior at Evanston High School, will be joining their parents at the

Hills' Architects Design Saugatuck Country Club, Inn

Bloom and Brown Architects of Bloomfield Hills and Boltaire, have announced construction will begin shortly near Saugatuck, Michigan, on a new $2 1/2 million inn and country club.

Called "The Hamilton," this inn with its old English country setting, will attract visitors and business conventions from throughout the Midwest who want to take advantage of its all season to start next week. All classes will be held in the newly redecorated gallery adjacent to the store.

Adult classes are offered both day and evenings, and Saturdays. Children's classes are scheduled for late afternoons, and on Saturday mornings. Classes are by reservations, and run for 10 weeks.

Ad Council Posts Assumed By B'ham Men

Two Birmingham area residents have assumed the top executive positions in the Michigan Council, American Association of Advertising Agencies.

The Michigan Council is composed of twenty member agencies with more than 4000 employees in the Michigan area.

Watts Wacker, 340 Puritan, is the new chairman of the Michigan Council 4-A's. A senior vice president in charge of Media, Marketing and Research for D. P. Brothel & Co., Detroit, Wacker is active in numerous civic and advertising organizations.

IN 1963 he was vice chairman of the Michigan Council 4-A's. Currently he serves on various committees of the Adcraft Club of Detroit, is a member of the board of directors of the Children's Center of Wayne County, and holds the position of president of the United Foundation and the Y.M.C.A.

Donald Graves, 1280 Redding Road, is the new secretary-treasurer of the Michigan Council. He is executive vice president of the Zimmer, Keller & Calvert agency in Detroit and also serves in volunteer capacities with various civic organizations.

Included among the organizations he serves are the United Foundation, Boy Scouts of America and the Adcraft Club of Detroit.
