NORTH ADAMS

Easter Week—When Many Took Spring Vacations

By ELIZABETH YATES
MI 6-1682

Easter Week has been vacation week for many throughout the North Adams area. The Ernest Coles and daughters, Cindy and Sally, of N. Valley Chase Drive chose Williamsburg, Va., as their Easter vacation destination. They left on Thursday, taking 10 days for historic tours and the scenic return trip on the Skyline Drive through the Smoky Mountains.

Mrs. James Glasgow and daughters, Bonnie and Lesley, of Eastways Drive flew to Pompano Beach, Fla. for their 10-day Easter holiday. They were houseguests of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Mackay, parents of Mrs. Glasgow while they swam and sunned. THE EUGENE HUNENIKS and children, Dorene and Eugene, of Patch Drive returned to their home town of Farmingdale, N. Y., for Easter week. During their stay they visited Mrs. Hunenik's parents, the Albert Bueschers.

Mr. and Mrs. William Nienuhus and son, Bill, of Walnut Hill Drive spent a few days in Grand Rapids during the holiday week. They visited the Charles Smiths, relatives of Mrs. Nienuhus.

The Arnold Earls and children, Debbie and Steve, of Kentmoor Road journeyed to Miami, Fla.,

for their Easter vacation. While there they visited Earl's mother, Mrs. Florence Earl, toured sun-roofing areas including a day at Fort Lauderdale for swimming and sunning.

THE JOHN KAICHENS of Lamplighter Lane and their children, Lisa, David and Carolyn, were another family spending 10 days at Easter in Florida. Palm Beach was their destination for enjoying the sun, surf and sand.

Mrs. William Garrison of Rouge Circle Drive has been traveling through the west since March 10. She has been visiting family and friends in San Francisco, Los Angeles and Tucson, Ariz.

Easter week end Garrison and daughter, Ann, traveled to Oklahoma City where they met Mrs. Garrison and stayed on for a few days to visit relatives. Ann, a third grade teacher in the Waterford School System, flew home while her parents leisurely motored home this week.

ST. THOMAS MORE Catholic Church members and their friends have been forming groups to attend "Man Of Off Seasons" at the Fisher Theatre on opening night—April 20. The play, a non-religious story on the life of St. Thomas More, is a church benefit.

Those who have not as yet purchased tickets but would like to attend this first performance may

Pam Mathis Is Up In the Clouds

Pamela Leigh (Pam) Mathis of Bloomfield Hills recently realized a long-time ambition when she was awarded the wings of an American Airlines stewardess at graduation ceremonies.

Pam is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert P. Mathis, 1223 Cedarholm. "I'd had the ambition to be a stewardess for a long time," Pam said. "But what really decided me was the trips I'd make home from college in Florida. I met and talked with stewardesses on the planes and they convinced me that it was the life for me." Pam applied and was accepted for training. With her fellow classmates—44 of them from throughout the United States—she spent six and a half weeks of resident training. The girls studied more than 100 different subjects which covered three major categories—general aviation, stewardess procedures and make-up and grooming.

AN AVERAGE OF SEVEN hours a day was spent in class by Pam and she made two week-end observation flights. After classes and on week ends, she joined her classmates in trips to Dallas and Fort Worth, relaxed around the college swimming pool, or took part in the other recreational facilities of the college.

Located on a 20-acre wooded tract at Fort Worth's Greater Southwest Airport, the stewardess college has been in operation for more than six years.

More than 4,000 American stewardesses have been trained in the million-dollar stone and steel structure.

Pam, who is 5'3", with green eyes and reddish-blond hair, was born in Philadelphia and graduated from high school in Camp Hill, Pennsylvania. She attended the University of Florida, where she majored in broadcasting and was a member of the "Singing Sweethearts."

Prior to joining American, she was employed by McManus, John and Adams Advertising Agency, Bloomfield Hills.

UPON GRADUATION from Stewardess College, Pam chose New York as her home base. Currently she is serving aboard astrojets which fly to Los Angeles, San Francisco, Chicago, Detroit and other cities throughout the United States.

"I really wanted New York," Pam said. "Because of the World's Fair. I'll have plenty of time off to really take it in. It's real thrilling to be based in New York just as the fair is about to begin."

Pam says she plans on flying "at least five years." "Then, maybe marriage," she smiled. "But not until I've seen all the places I want to see and visit all the foreign countries I've read about but never have had the opportunity to visit."

Variety Spices Huge AFS Fair As Students Get Into the Act

Flags of all nations will be flying at the entrance to the Grosse Pointe War Memorial on Saturday, April 18, when the Metropolitan Detroit Chapter of the American Field Service holds its annual spring festival.

This year the festival will be called "Hands Across the Sea," expressing the philosophy of the American Field Service international exchange-student program in working toward greater understanding between the nations of the world.

The program of events strikes a nice balance between student entertainment and a wide variety of booths sponsored by the different AFS communities.

The students will present showings of slides of foreign countries, will have panel discussions on topics of current interest, will provide exhibits of unusual objects from their countries and will put on a talent show of singing, dancing and playing musical instruments.

BOOTHS WILL include imported gifts which have been gathered together by AFS students and interested friends from all parts of Europe, Asia and Mexico. There will also be foods from distant lands, specializing in imported cheeses; a grab bag type of booth called "Pick a Pretty Package"; gay and whimsical spring hats and veils; individual and artistic arrangements of artificial flowers, candies and porcelain figures; flower arrangements by Michigan florists will be for sale; home baked goods; hand made sweaters and many more booths ranging from foreign dolls to knitting loom demonstrations.

All this will be available to the public from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. and tea will be served during the afternoon. Luncheon will also be available. Mrs. George-Romey will speak at 3 p.m. Tickets may be purchased from local high schools and from board members.

THE FESTIVAL is the annual fund raising event of the Michigan Chapter of the American Field Service, and proceeds from it are used to increase the number of foreign students coming to study in the United States for their senior year of high school.

It Takes More Than Love

TO FIT A PAIR OF FEET

"Children's feet come in all shapes and sizes," noted John C. Batts, manager of the HACK SHOE STORE at 235 Pierce Street, "but we have the sizes to fit all of them. Imagine our widths for first walkers: A, B, C, D, E, EEE and EEEE! And, if needed, we can make them up in EEEEE."

"This makes it easy to fit each child correctly so that growing feet can develop properly," he concluded.

Mr. Batts, like all the other members of the Hack Shoe Company staff, is an experienced shoe fitter, dedicated to quality, fit and service—in the 48-year-old HACK tradition.

There are three other HACK SHOE STORES, all in Detroit: Downtown, on the 5th Floor of the Mutual Bldg. at 28 W. Adams Ave.; at 12633 East Warren Ave.; and at 19260 Livernois.

Society Dept. deadline for all organizational news, weddings and engagements announcement is 5 p.m. on the Friday preceding Thursday publication.

Up-Dating Gardens

Concero G. Albert, chief architect for the Oakland Landscaping Co., will be guest speaker Monday, April 13, when Birmingham Branch, WNFCA, meets at 12:30 p.m. in the Community House. Mr. Albert's topic will be "Bringing Your Garden up to Date."

Among those planning to attend are Mrs. F. N. Askounes, Mrs. Claude A. Welles, Jr., Mrs. Norman Berry, Mrs. Charles Mason, Mrs. Stewart M. Gram, Mrs. Derwood Gamble, Mrs. D. H.

Gouldsmith, Mrs. Thomas Fitzpatrick, Mrs. S. J. Skaisis, Mrs. Chester Wisniewski and Mrs. Glenn Kyker.

Greek Letters

Mary Fox, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Fox of Bloomfield Hills, has recently pledged to Delta at the University of Michigan. Three other local girls are wearing Kappa Kappa Gamma pins: Chris Anderson, Becky Brogan and Janet Brookman.
