Talk about royalty.
The prince of summer suitings has traditionally been Mohair. And with good reason. No other fabric has been quite able to match its regal look and yet remain as downright cool.
The secret?
No secret at all. All you need is the special glossy hair of the Angora goat. It's tough. It's silky. And it's very uncommon. But most important, it can be woven into the lightest, crispest suits under the summer sun: Mohair.

Notice the "can be." Not everyone is capable of getting everything out of Mohair that Nature put into it. It takes skill... and lots of experience.
For over 30 years we at Osmun's have been fortunate to have one of Michigan's largest collections of fine Mohair suits from America's finest houses. You'll find rich solid shades and subtle self-stripes and plaids. The styling is perfection. Our tailors perfectionists.
Come into Osmun's and see our big selection of Mohairs in 1-2- and 3-button styles.
