The State of Michigan is to issue $37,874,000 in bonds for public works construction. Only qualified bidders who have property, either real or personal, listed on this year's assessment rolls, and their wives and husbands, are eligible to vote in this election, which has been called specially to decide the fate of the Employment Recovery Act.

Starting Monday morning, offices of the closed First National Bank will be moved from their present location in the Birmingham National Bank Building to the building on South Woodward avenue formerly occupied by the Birmingham Savings Bank, it has been announced by Thad D. Sealey, receiver. The change is being made at the order of the comptroller of the currency.

Alarmed by the fact that less than $2,000 has been secured to date, workers in the annual Community Home Roll Call at a meeting last night resolved to redouble their efforts in the next three days to attain the $7,500 goal. The drive will end officially Saturday night, it was announced by H. Kenneth Bingham, general chairman.

15 YEARS AGO

April 21, 1949
State Highway Department survey crews will be Birmingham next week to begin gathering data for construction of three sections of access roads along US-10 and Hunter boulevard. City Manager Donald C. Egbert disclosed this week. Within the next 60 days, the state expects to begin construction of the first section on the west side of US-10 directly in front of the Colonial Court apartments, which are just south of Redding road.

Ralph W. Moxley, chief of the Birmingham police department, has received a telegram from Ned A. Dearborn, president of the National Safety Council, extending congratulations to the city on its traffic record. The city received an award for completing 1845 without a traffic death. According to a news release from Chicago, Birmingham is one of 92 cities in the country whose population exceeds 10,000 persons, to win such an award for 1948.

Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills police moved into the third week of the brake and light checking program designed to reduce traffic accidents by correcting unsafe conditions of cars. Chiefs Ralph W. Moxley and Imae Banks reported that both departments still are finding some vehicles which do not meet all the requirements for complete highway safety.

Average Home? Yes, Due to Average Income

To the Editor:
As a resident of the Birmingham "Shum" (the area south of Lincoln, west of Woodward and east of Grand), I'd like to have you say about the future good deeds planned for this area.

I realize some of the homes here are pretty bad. In fact, I've wondered why a few of them haven't been condemned.

THE POINT I want to make is that there are a lot more just average homes here than you think. Compared with a lot of Birmingham homes, the average homes I've mentioned may seem run down. However, these average homes are owned by people with average incomes (national average, not Birmingham), and can only spend average amounts on landscaping.

IF SOMEONE wants to do something about the very run down homes here, that's fine. In fact, it's great, but please don't give the impression that no one in this corner of town knows what a lawn mower or paint brush is.

Today the world is very sad, for something has happened that's very bad. Our beloved president, J.F.K. Was shot dead that very day.

The man who did it Oswald by name, Surely this man was completely insane. For who would commit such a terrible feat As to shoot our president on a Dallas street.

And now as the family his casket they view, Little John-John asks Is my daddy in the basket with the red, white and blue? Mr. Kennedy is now enjoying a life. Where all is happy and there is no strife. Truly this person was a wonderful man for Uncle Sam. Who gave his life for Uncle Sam.

Buick has a great transmission.

An automobile transmission, we grant you, isn't the most soul-stirring subject on earth. Nothing to look at either.

But if you'd like for your next car to give you a better break on performance and gasoline mileage, something happened last week to be your guide.

The Los Angeles to New York Mobil Economy Run proved one thing for sure. There's quite a difference in the transmission of some cars.

Three out of four for Buick. The long-time champion in the ensemble also Buick—walked off with the 1964 economy pennant. No other single make of car won as many events as Buick. Four starts, three winners.

The winning Special carried the new Super Turbine 300 automatic transmission; the LeSabre was equipped with the Super Turbine 400 (both optional at extra cost). They're the latest in a long line of Buick transmissions well known for their smoothness and absence of "shift feel". The Super Turbine is a refined and improved torque converter type to help you safely pass cars and trucks as well as starting subjects on earth.

You'll hear a lot more in the next couple of weeks as this modern kind of transmission also is adopted by many more car builders.

What about engine? Of course, an efficient transmission gets more efficient when teamed up with a lean, agile engine. The winning Buick power plant was our new V-6 and V-8. The 300 cubic inch V-8 in the winning Buick Special (the lowest priced of all Buicks) and the Buick LeSabre (the lowest priced big Buick) is like a well-conditioned fighter. All muscles, no fat. Weighs in at less than other V-8's of similar power. It took every other V-8 in the Economy Run.

Your type of driving—regular gas. The Run was through cities and towns across super highways, in traffic, out of traffic. This was not race track driving or proving ground driving. This was your kind of driving—even though you can't expect to get as good mileage as these expert drivers in their finely tuned production cars. The distance was 3,243 miles, about what most families log in four months. All three Buicks used regular gas.

So the Economy Run is not just a cross country tour for the Mobil people and a few car buffs. It's a reliable test of a car's power team and what it's able to squeeze out of its fuel.

We don't expect everybody to rush out because we won a few economy trophies. There are so many other good reasons for heading to Buick, that economy usually gets second billing. There's styling, astuteness, an unusually great ride. Entering any engineering and workmanship. And very, very performance. Small wonder Buick sales are running at 11.5% over last year.

But it's nice to get economy as a plus in a Buick. Beyond the dollars saved on gasoline, there's a certain pride in knowing you have a car that's built to get the most out of every tank of gasoline.
