Nottingham Dinner-Dance Has Cabaret Atmosphere

By ELLI BLAUMAN
MI 7-1465

Upwards of 30 friends gathered at the Friar Tuck residence of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Damman for cocktails last Saturday evening, but by eight o'clock all, including the host and hostess, had disappeared.
However, to find them all one had to do was enter the Cotillion Room of the Kingsley Inn where they and many other residents of Nottingham Forest were enjoying the second annual spring dinner dance for association members.
The tables for eight, arranged in cabaret fashion, held floating flower arrangements, which were created by Mrs. W. R. Stimson and Mrs. Frank Klotz. Mrs. Stimson is social chairman of the association.

WHEN THE West Beverly Hostess Club met last week Mrs. Robert Rowan turned the presidency over to Mrs. Charles Grenier. The new first vice president is Mrs. James Dunn; second vice president, Mrs. Gerald Tarvis; secretary, Mrs. William Burke; treasurer, Mrs. Frank Coyer; and publicity chairman, Mrs. William Hunter.
Members of the club also discussed plans for the May 16 dinner dance which they will give with the West Beverly Men's Association at Devon Gables.
The next Hostess Club meeting will take place at the Riverside Drive home of Mrs. Robert Rowan in the form of a tea for the hostesses and new hostesses.

MR. AND MRS. Frank Coyer of Weston Drive and the Robert Rowans of Riverside Drive recently spent eight days at Greenbriar, W. Va., where they relaxed and played golf.
Since their return, the Coyers have had as guests the senior Coyers of Champagne, Ill., and last week end Mr. and Mrs. Donald Coyer of Chicago arrived to help celebrate the 50th wedding anniversary of their parents.
Most of the week end was devoted to honoring the senior Coyers, by way of an open house on Saturday evening and a family dinner on Sunday at the Oakland Hills Country Club.

THE LINCOLN Warrells, of East Rutland have returned from a four-day trip to Chicago where they attended the National Cerebral Convention at the Palmer House.
While her husband attended to the business end of the convention, Mrs. Warrell went to a ladies luncheon and bridge party, had smorgasbord at the Kingsholm and toured Marina City.
Evenings were busy, too, with a banquet and a dance planned but they arrived home in time to greet Mrs. J. E. Warrell of Carlisle, Pa., who arrived to see granddaughter Linda, 7, receive her first communion on Saturday morning at Our Lady Queen of Martyrs Church.

MR. AND MRS. John C. Malpell, Jr., of Westlady Drive had 20 couples over twice last Friday evening. Once for cocktails before the St. Regis Parish Parents Club variety show at Berkshire Junior High School, and again afterward for a midnight buffet.
Dr. and Mrs. John Champagne of Belleville Trail also attended the show, but on Saturday evening, with Mr. and Mrs. Nemer Simons, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gassaman, the E. C. Monahan, Mrs. John Coffin, the Keith Blakes, and Dr. and Mrs. Donald Albert, all of whom were the Champagne dinner guests before the performance.

Just back from the Grand Bahama Hotel on Great Bahama Island, and untanned as can be are Jack and Sue Putnam of Madison Road. During their week-long visit, both of the Putnams took scuba diving lessons while enjoying the warm weather.
THE VINCENT Fenelons of West Rutland combined business with a tour of Washington, D. C., last week when they flew down for a Chrysler Corp. seminar.
Both the Fenelons are originally from North Dakota, and looked up Senator Young of that state, who took them to the senate where they heard the filibustering of Sen. Ribicoff.
They also visited Georgetown and Arlington Cemetery before returning.
A bowling tournament in Girard, O., took Mr. and Mrs. John Dolence of Madoline Road out of town last weekend. Bowling in separate division, they have attended lodge tournaments for several years where on one occasion Mrs. Dolence won women's first place honors.
A PROGRESSIVE dinner last Sunday given by the Delta Lambda chapter of Sigma Alpha, a national charitable sorority, for the Alpha Upsilon chapter took 22 women to three Beverly Hills homes before their meal was completed.
Mrs. Gerald Katze of Marguerite oyster cocktails then Mrs. John Barich of Amherst Road was hostess of a spaghetti dinner. Dessert and coffee were served by Mrs. Hugh Cochran also of Amherst.
Mrs. Claude Shepherd of Madoline Road, area chairman for the cancer drive, recently held an evening coffee for the 13 women who assisted in the collection of nearly $200 in their district.

ZTA Will Meet In Franklin
Mrs. Ruth Kennedy, district supervisor of the Pontiac office of Family Service of Oakland County, will be guest speaker at Tuesday's meeting of the North Woodward group of the alumnae association of Zeta Tau Alpha. Members will meet at the home of Mrs. Al Teagan, North Greenbriar Road, Franklin, at 8:15 p.m.

Shaver-Billingsley Rites

A candlelight wedding at St. Marks Episcopal Church, Jacksonville, Fla., united Alice Ann Shaver and Samuel Fulman Billingsley III on Saturday.
The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Percy Shaver, 6901 Cathedral Drive, Birmingham. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. George Felton Carithers of Macon, Ga., and the late Mr. Samuel Fulman Billingsley Jr.
The new Mrs. Billingsley wore a gown of silk organza over taffeta which was fashioned with a fitted bodice entirely covered with applied Alcon lace which also formed tiny cap sleeves. The softly-controlled skirt fell into a chapel-length train which was highlighted with matching lace medallions, and the front of the skirt featured a panel of matching lace.
HER THREE-TIERED veil of imported French illusion fell from a crown of silk organza flowers centered with seed pearls and finished in the back with a fat bow of silk organza. Her flowers were a cascade arrangement of stephanotis and phalaenopsis orchids.
Frances Patis L'Engle of Jacksonville, Fla., was the honor attendant. Bridesmaids were Patricia Swindell, Fort Lauderdale, Fla.; Mrs. John O'Kellay, Montgomery, Ala.; a junior bridesmaid was Susan Carithers, a sister of the groom. They wore jonquil yellow street-length sheaths of silk organza over taffeta with triple-tiered overskirts. Their illusion veils fell from matching yellow organza cirelets. They carried cascade arrangements of shasta daisies.
The best man was David Billingsley, Macon, Ga., brother of the groom. Ushers were William Shaver, Jr., brother of the bride, Birmingham; George Carithers, brother of the groom and Raymond Powell, both of Macon.
THE BRIDE'S MOTHER wore a peau de soie sheath of French blue fashioned with a scalloped neckline and small cap sleeves of Alcon lace. The groom's mother wore a mint green chiffon sheath
