Mrs. Kriger Impressed
By Tour of Holy Land

Priceless memories, says Mrs. Bernard Kriger of the trip that she and her husband returned from recently.

The Krigers of S. Cranbrook Cross flew to New York on March 19 where they boarded an overseas flight bound for Israel. The first memorable impression was made when after being in flight for several hours and upon glancing at her watch, Mrs. Kriger felt it time to retire but instead the flight stewardess announced that breakfast would be served since they would shortly be setting down in Rome.

WITH THE sun rising, Mrs. Kriger suddenly became aware that she had "lost" six hours of her life. Their trip couldn't have been more perfectly timed because their son Barry, who is a third-year student at the University of Israel was on a semester vacation and in the country they were visiting was at the peak of events connected with religious beliefs.

When they arrived at Tel Aviv, Barry was on hand to greet his parents but it took what seemed an eternity to Mrs. Kriger for them to greet the country they were traveling again. A nephew of Mrs. Kriger, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Wolman of Waterville, Me., was celebrating his Bar Mitzvah and the entire family which includes sons, Jeff and Jack, went to Maine for a long week end. Jeff will be graduating from Seabold this June and is enrolled at the University of Pennsylvania for classes next fall.

ON THE RETURN trip three days were spent in France where they visited Paris and all it has to offer. The Krigers barely had time to come up for air when they were traveling again. A nephew of Mrs. Kriger, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Wolman of Waterville, Me., was celebrating his Bar Mitzvah and the entire family which includes sons, Jeff and Jack, went to Maine for a long week end. Jeff will be graduating from Seabold this June and is enrolled at the University of Pennsylvania for classes next fall.

TRAVELING SEEMS to come in "bunches" as well as anything else. During the month of February, the Ben Franklins of Westbourne Drive went west to Great Falls, Mont., where they witnessed the marriage of their son, Jack Harrison.

Jack is a graduate of Michigan State University. On March 18 the Franklins began a three-week motoring trip which eventually took them to Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., where they were joined by another son, Tom, who is now a second-year student at Michigan State.

On the way down south the Franklins stopped in Brunswick, Ga., where they picked up another son, Benjamin Jr., who is staying there with the Navy. It was a wonderful family vacation in which much golfing and swimming was enjoyed.

Couples who gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James McDonald of Middlebury Lane to get into the mood before attending the performance of the Variety Show of "On the Fence" presented by the St. Regis Parents Club were Mr. and Mrs. Sam McCready, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Shantz and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Seeger.

"AS YOU LIKE IT" was the theme when members of the Westchester branch of the Women's National Farm and Garden Association held their monthly meeting on Monday, April 27 at the home of Mrs. Edward Collins. Each member brought her own favorite flower arrangement which was then judged. The purpose was to learn by doing. Pointers were given by Mrs. Earle Haft and Mrs. Boris Goojak who have been certified as flower show judges by the Michigan Division of the W.N.F.G.A.

Also giving suggestions was Mrs. Jack Seelye who is working on her judge's certificate. A table arrangement for a "Midsummer Branch" was exhibited by Mrs. Vernon Fitch, president of the Westchester branch.

Bill Bundy of S. Cranbrook Road has returned from a week of golfing at Pinehurst, N. C. Bill and several of his business associates have been making this trip annually for a number of years.

MR. AND MRS. John Gormley of Jackson Park Drive arrived home on April 13 after a week in New York. They attended a preview showing of the General Motors exhibition at the World's Fair and also saw several of the productions now appearing on Broadway.

Originally from the East, Mrs. Gormley found time to visit some of her favorite "shops" but found most of them in an "in-between" season "full" and contented herself with a purchase for her newest granddaughter whom she has yet to see inasmuch as the child was born in Germany a short time ago.

APRIL 16 was homecoming day for Mrs. James McDonald of Middlebury Lane and her two daughters, Colleen and Maureen.

They had been in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., for a month visiting with Mrs. McDonald's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Hallan. When they left here in March, Mr. McDonald and his mother, Mrs. Matthew McDonald of Parkhurst, were also in the party motoring south. They were later joined by Mr. McDonald's father and sister, Mary Lou who flew down for 10 days at Easter time.

Rounding out the family reunion was the Halians' son who resides in Jacksonville, Mich. (the upper part of the state). It was the first complete family gathering in six years and was fortunately timed to include a birthday celebration of Mrs. James McDonald which was held at the Escape Hotel in Ft. Lauderdale.

You can buy lightweight suits in at least six other stores!

So why Osmun's?

Let's face it. Summer suits aren't exactly in short supply. Other stores will doubtlessly have a good selection of good suits to show you at good prices.

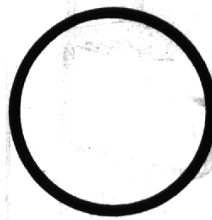

So why come to Osmun's?

Because you get more than just something to wear here. You get us. The people who wait on you. The people who lengthen your cuff. The people who shorten your shopping. People who warm up to other people (Punch cards leave them cold). Result: We try awfully hard to earn your business.

That's why you'll always find the best of the best brand names (like famous Eagle clothes) . . . a choice of individualized charge plans . . . never a charge for alterations . . . lots of free parking . . . free gift boxes, etc.

Does this make sense? It does to the Birmingham-Bloomfield men and women who know us. You'd be surprised how many there are.
