Get Sturdy Yard Equipment

Be sure you're getting durable, quality equipment — with cast iron parts wherever rigid alignment, head resistance and strength are required—when you buy a power mower, tiller, riding tractor with attachments, or other power time-savers for your yard.

Otherwise, the time you save on lawn and garden work all may be spent repairing the equipment, trying to keep it running.

CHECK ON durability and quality by looking over the equipment carefully, reading the literature and asking the salesman to show you before.

Dutch Oven Cookout Tops for Campers

When it comes to good old-fashioned camping cookouts, western style, there's nothing like a cast-iron Dutch oven. You can cook with it right over a campfire and beans, stew, soup, biscuits (you name it) come out of the Dutch oven tasting "scrumptious," to quote a young "cowboy."

The cast iron does a real cooking job, through and through.

Designed for the Desk Set

Desk and chair ideas are shown in this corner of a sophisticated New York penthouse apartment. The desk chairs have steel chrome plated frames and black leather upholstery, topped by a smart red ruffled linen. They pair with a sturdy desk reflective of Early American tradition.

Choose Evergreen Trees

January to December

Evergreen shrubs and trees are basic to landscaping and planting any property.

They provide welcome color on the property all year long—from January to December. They form backgrounds for other flowering plants, while many bloom with some of the loveliest flowers in the plant world.

Actually the home owner can get along without evergreens until he wishes his property to look bare during the cold winter months. Even in semi-tropical areas evergreens fill a big need.

SOME OF THE SHRUBS which have better winter color in the more northern states include Littleleaf Box, Hinoki Cypress or Shimpaku False Cypress, Rose Deodar, several varieties of Kousa, box and live, many of the Junipers, any of the azaleas and most of the pines, Rake, many Rhododendrons, Taxus, Liguustrum, Mahonia, Honeysuckle, Arbor Vines and a number of others.

The variety in foliage colors and leaf structures of evergreens adds much to their ornamental value, whether in the north or south. In planting them, it is wise to consult with your nurseryman in order to make full use of their more pleasing characteristics.

Outdoors, Indoors

For an outdoors charcoal flavor in indoor cooking, a new gas grill utilizes radiant ceramic rocks and cast iron grates.
