Kitchen Shower, Brunch Foretell Wedding Plans

By ELEANOR NELSEN MI 7-0056

The fore-runner of a wedding is usually a shower. Several such parties have been given for Nancy Seelye, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Seelye of S. Cranbrook Road who will be married in the near future to Robert Brookman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur P. Brookman of Bradway Blvd.

On Saturday, May 2 a kitchen shower was given for the bride-to-be at the Village Women's Club by Mrs. Carl Marr of Birmingham. Clever part of the decor was the centerpieces made up entirely of kitchen utensils.

Twenty-five guests helped to make it a delightful party. The very next day Mrs. Schuyler of Lake Park entertained Nancy and her friends at a bon voyage brunch.

A PART of the bridal plans is a flight to Europe on the student plan from the University of Michigan so each guest gifted the couple with an addition to a "money tree." When the newly weds are traveling in Europe they are to purchase keepsakes with the tokens from the tree and then write "thank-you" notes on their purchases.

At the most recent court of honor of Troop 1066 when they met at the St. Regis School on May 1, mothers of the boys who worked in the kitchen, cutting cakes, opening coke bottles in untold numbers and making sure the ice cream was just right are due for a little credit even though they do it not for the glory because they are proud of their sons.

So, honors go to Mrs. Hansa Scheive, Mrs. William Busch and Mrs. William Hoef.

IT WILL be parental pride that many Moms and Dads will be feeling when they watch their youngsters perform on the stage at the Community House in Birmingham at 8 p.m. on Friday.

That will be somewhat the grand finale of the past year for the students of the Nancy Sue Whitson School of Dance. Among the young ladies from the Cranbrook-Maple area who will show their talents are Pat Rose, Becky Falck, Susan Bones, Dianne Neppach and Patti Nelson.

Others will be Maryann Homrighous, Debbie and Linda Guthrie and Karen and Tammy Roth.

Miss Whitson has been presenting her students in such a performance for the past several years and is quite well-known in her chosen profession.

FLOWER SHOWS may come and flower shows may go but the Maple-Brook branch of the Women's National Farm and Garden Association, in an effort to encourage the young people within their area, have canvassed their neighborhood and presented all youngsters within a certain age limit a packet of seeds to plant and cultivate.

Then in the fall when the branch has its show the youngsters will be asked to bring their flowers, not in a fancy arrangement but perhaps just a handful to show proudly. A glance in the vicinity will show many new small garden plots.

IT WOULDN'T be quite right to say "it was with a warm feeling" that Mr. and Mrs. Mel Sparks moved back into their house recently because they had been living elsewhere the past two months while their home on Pickering was being rebuilt after a fire which destroyed a good 75 per cent of the interior. Their neighbors at any rate were happy to say "welcome back."

The Birmingham Country Club was the scene of the St. Regis Altar Society May Breakfast on Wednesday. The guest speaker was Fr. Raymond Schlinkert, the star of the television show "With This Ring."

World's Fair Motif Highlights Dance

"An evening at the World's Fair" will be the setting Saturday night at the Christ Child Society's dinner dance slated for Oakland Hills Country Club at 6:30 p.m.

The club will be decorated with posters and motifs of the New York World's Fair, and guests will walk through an aisle of the United Nations flags to reach the main lounge, according to Chairman Mrs. E. William Kenyon.

TABLES WILL BE decorated with streamers, while the flag motif will dominate the centerpieces.

The Alan Brass Orchestra will play against a backdrop of the pavilion scene at the Fair.

Ticket chairman is Mrs. Thomas H. Schulte, while decorations have been under the direction of Mrs. James W. Fisher. Her decorating committee is Mrs. William E. Hogan Jr., Mrs. Len J. Dillon Jr., Mrs. David Smith, Mrs. Paul M. Karlut, and Mrs. Willard M. Reagan.

Among residents planning to attend are Mr. and Mrs. Clyde B. Recht, Mr. and Mrs. Frank MacDonell, Mr. and Mrs. John Ward Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Lee Keating, Mr. and Mrs. E. Leo Desimpel and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Distler.

OTHERS ARE Mr. and Mrs. J. Norman Allison, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Applequist, Mr. and Mrs. Judge Bearden and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Dickinson.

The Dickinsons and the Keatings have planned cocktail parties to precede the dinner dance.

Some of the "in front of the curtain" acts were performed by a group of Bloomfield High seniors who sang several numbers and a hootenanny number, in which Holly's brother, Tex, took a part.
