Ginny Schaefer’s Classes Exhibit Their Creativity

By CAROLYN HALL

The goal of the Ginny Schaefer School of Art is to offer many basic courses, classes ranging in size and range and stages of achievement. It is the community’s treasure, says the late Harry, director of education, who, "We have in the whole community." The Schaefer School, which is a non-profit educational organization, offers classes to children and adults. The school has been in operation since 1934 and has been under the leadership of Mrs. Schaefer since 1954.

MRS. SCHAEFER

MRS. SCHAEFER’S classes cover a wide variety of art forms, from drawing to sculpture. She believes in providing a creative environment for her students, encouraging them to express themselves through art. Mrs. Schaefer has been teaching at the Schaefer School for over 20 years and has inspired many students to pursue their own artistic endeavors.

PERFORMING AN INTEREST

MRS. SCHAEFER’S students work on a variety of projects, from sculptures to paintings. She encourages her students to experiment with different materials and techniques, helping them develop their own unique styles. Mrs. Schaefer believes that art is a way of life, and she strives to instill this philosophy in her students.
