

B'field Country Day Displays Latin Projects

By ANGELA KOUNTOUPES
Special Writer

Bloomfield Country Day School is "prouder than punch" of its Latin teacher, Mrs. Laymon Long, and her students whom she has inspired to assemble a fascinating collection of projects dealing with Roman life and history.

Ingenuity and hard work characterized the efforts of all students in Latin I through Latin III. The largest class, Latin I, produced two mosaics by Roberta Freeman and Karen Carlson and a map of ancient and modern Rome with points of special interest by Sue Mosier.

A Roman calendar by Carol Borin, two pictures and an explanation of a Roman bride by Elaine Fortigan; a scrapbook of Latin mottoes by K. C. Clendening; a Latin pronunciation chart by Nancy Davis; and a richly decorated letter by Susan Ramsey also were featured.

the school emblem with the school motto—"Veritas vos liberabit"—and Marilyn Flint fixed up a State coat-of-arms.

The Latin II class has only four members: Susan Gordon who made a drawing of Scorpio, Dianne Richardson who fashioned a javelin, Dorothy Wilson who carved a wooden shield and Debbie Wilson who painted "The Death of Caesar".

THE LATIN III class has spent the year studying Virgil's Aeneid, and their projects are in tune with that great epic.

Susan Judd and Dale Hower depicted the story of the Aeneid through folk songs. Barbara Jenkins traced the wanderings of Aeneas on a map. Judy Rogers made an ABC book of Aeneid vocabulary. Margie Foren finished her aqueduct made of sugar cubes and styro-foam.

Four Roman matrons and a young soldier have proudly taken their places among the aforesaid deities of their advanced culture. The boy was outfitted by Marlene Applehof — the women by Nora Koskinen, Maggie Ploch, Judy Winston and Joycelyn Woods.

Dressed for the Occasion

More than 300 persons attended the International Club's dinner-dance at Berkshire Jr. High May 13. The event, held in the school's cafeteria, features foods from various countries served by waitresses in their native costumes. Corners of the room were decorated to resemble other lands, as the scene pictured above. Tickets for the dinner were sold out, indicating a successful venture. Sponsors of the club are Miss Carol Chesney, Miss Barbara Weiss and Mrs. Nancy Horschalk.

Brother Rice Junior Class Holds Student Council Vote

By JOHN McGUICKIN
Special Writer

Elections are the order of the day at Brother Rice High School. The BRHS underclass student body goes to the polls tomorrow morning to elect next year's Student-Council officers.

Tomorrow's elections will choose a president, vice president, secretary and treasurer of next year's Student Council. Pete Foley, Terry Finn, Paul McCarthy and Tim Nolan form the Tiger ticket. Hoping for victory on the Lion side are Jim Angell, Bob Rintinger, Elmer Clawson and Joe Varley.

The winner of tomorrow's Foley-Angell race will take over the job currently held by Jim Dean, the present head of the BRHS student government. Seeing their successors elected tomorrow are Tom Schafer, vice president; Bob Stark, secretary; and Jack O'Hara, treasurer.

A LITTLE less campaigning but certainly as much interest centered around last week's election of next year's Honor Society officers.

The voting on May 12 resulted in the election of a vice president, secretary, and treasurer. The top race ended in a tie between Pete Meagher and Jim Bodary. Another meeting was held on May 13. This meeting resulted in the election of Jim Bodary, an all "A" student and BRHS's representative on the "Eccentric's" teen-age panel.

Working with Jim next year will be Tom Hopkins, who was elected vice president; Paul Otto, secretary; and Bill Brown, treasurer.

The juniors, in the midst of the SC elections, took time off to head for the Brother Rice track for the junior intramurals.

WINNING THE 440 yard run was Dave Giroux; Paul McCarthy took the 880. Dan Corrigan won two events, the 100 yard dash and the 140 low hurdles. Louis Ministrelli dominated the high jump while George Dungan was winning the broad jump event. Bob Shafo won the final events of the meet, the shot put.

The members of the French Departments of Brother Rice and Marian presented two French plays to their fellow students on Wednesday and to the public on Saturday.

Having major parts in "La Paure," the first of the plays to be presented, were Craig McTyre, Marilyn Williamson, Sharon Garvale and Pat Raleigh. Henry Grix, John Vaughney, Shirley Stann and Larry Vogt also had parts in the play. The remaining members of this cast were Sue Stann, Bob Gabriel, Mary Liz Steuchell, Jerry Murphy, Ann Gahan, Paul Hoad, Mary Herpich and Fred Lemox.

"LANGLAIS tel qu'on le parle" was double cast to enable more students to participate. In the first cast were Donna Sabo, Margaret Conklin, Joe Hoffman, George O'Brien, Art Thornbury, Tom Brooks, Bill Storch and George McLaughlin.

The second cast consisted of Cathy Shihoda, Pat Bailey, Jack O'Hara, Jim Bodary, Jerry McGowan and Pat Raleigh. Henry Grix, John Vaughney, Shirley Stann and Larry

Berkshire Stages Concert

By MARGARET BROWNING
Special Writer

Berkshire choirs held a Spring Concert on May 20. The eighth grade choir was directed by Mrs. Majel Crater. "Early One Morning," "Leave Me Lord," and "Heaven Bound Soldier" were three of the songs the choir sang.

The eighth grade choir previously received high honors at the District 11 Festival, allowing the choir to go to Ferndale where they were rated again with superior ratings.

The seventh grade choir, directed by Mrs. Eleanor Balaam, sang "Say It With Music" and Palestrina's "O Domine Jesu Christe," two folk songs and selections from Bye Bye Birdie.

AN EIGHTH grade dance and swim night sponsored by the Future Teachers of America Club will be held Friday, May 22. The dance will be an eighth grade graduation dance with the theme "This

Was The Year That Was." The general chairman is Barb Mangrum. Pam Pajias is heading decorations. In charge of publicity is Katie Theurer, and Claire Burstad is heading refreshments.

On May 20 in the cafeteria the Future Teachers gave a "party" to acquaint seventh graders with the club. Miss Barbara Davis and Miss Mary Daleo, sponsors of the club, explained the different activities. Wendy Ricker, the president, Barb Mangrum, the vice-president, and Julie Robertson also were speakers. A panel of Groves PTA members explained their club.

THE FINAL tryouts for the ninth grade Groves cheerleaders were held on May 8. The regular cheerleaders are: Brooke Borgeson, Mary Lou Buchanan; Sue Christianson, Dori Kennedy, Chris Hanson and Kris Rowan. Swim team cheerleaders and alternates are: Sue Vigi, Barb Mangrum and Kerry Kern.
