

Miss Genovesi Weds David Roy Palmer

St. Hugo of the Hills Church in Bloomfield Hills was the setting for the 11 a.m. marriage of Sandra Marie Genovesi to David Roy Palmer at double ring ceremonies Saturday.

Parents of the newlyweds are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Genovesi, 4944 Malibu, Bloomfield Hills, and Mr. and Mrs. Roy H. Palmer of Elkhart, Indiana.

For her wedding, the new Mrs. Palmer wore an imported Alençon lace over peau de soie gown, its bodice enhanced with a Sabrina neckline and elbow-length sleeves. Its controlled skirt was back-sashed with a tailored bow, securing the chapel train. A matching Dior bow held the French illusion veil. A cascade bouquet of stephanotis and white orchids completed the ensemble.

MRS. PALMER

Palmer, the groom's brother, of Waverly.

THE BRIDE'S brother, John Joseph Genovesi, and cousin, John Peter Genovesi, served as altar boys for the ceremony.

The bride's mother wore a pink brocade suit for the wedding ceremony, later changing to a gold peau de soie sheath with beaded bodice for the reception. The groom's mother was attired in a deep pink crepe sheath at the church, later changing to a deep rose silk sheath. They both wore white orchids.

Following morning brunch and dinner receptions at the Park Shelton Hotel, the newlyweds left for a wedding trip to Northern Michigan. The bride's traveling costume was a white linen sheath accented with daisies, over which she wore a matching white linen coat.

The Palmers will make their home in Elkhart, Ind., for a year, later returning to Michigan.

Society Dept. deadline for all organizational news, wedding and engagements announcement is 5 p.m. on the Friday preceding Thursday publication.
