CDC Presents Development Proposals

Thousands See Parade
Gov. Romney Center of Attraction

By LARRY EYOE

A crowd of about 3,000 lined the streets for the annual Birmingham Festival Day parade, which featured floats, bands, and a variety of groups promoting local businesses.

The parade started at the intersection of Southfield Road and East Michigan Avenue, and ended at the center of downtown Birmingham.

One of the highlights of the parade was a float featuring a large model of the new Detroit Lions football stadium.

Residents Voice Opinions To Southwest Paving Project

By LARRY EYOE

The residents of the southwest district of Birmingham have mixed feelings about the proposed paving project. Some are concerned about the noise and dust generated by the construction, while others are excited about the improved appearance of the neighborhood.

The proposed project would involve the paving of numerous streets in the southwest district, including Oakwood, Sunset, and Oakridge avenues.

New Budget Provides for Drop in Tax

City tax bills are going to be slightly lower for the upcoming fiscal year.

The city council approved a budget of $19.3 million, which includes a 3% decrease in property tax rates.

The ceremony will include a parade, a brief address by the mayor, and a wreath-laying ceremony.

Offer Concepts To Help Plan B’ham’s Future

A citizens committee has been formed to help plan the future of Birmingham.

The committee, which includes representatives from various community groups, will meet monthly to discuss proposals and make recommendations to the city council.

Why Now?

"How Much?"

"Why Now?"

"How Much?"

Neither the first question must be answered before the second can be asked. Both questions must be answered in order to develop a comprehensive plan for the future of the city.

KEEP IN MIND what the two questions mean:

1. Authorize for a tax increase of $1.2 million each year.

2. Authorize for a tax increase of $1.2 million each year.

The citizens committee has recommended that both questions be answered yes.

KIDS ARE THE FUTURE of the new service center.

Why now? Because it is the children and the future.

Eccentric Sets New Mark in Paid Circulation

The Birmingham Electric today set a new record for paid circulation.

The newspaper reached a circulation of 1,200,000, including 1,000,000 homes and 200,000 offices.

The circulation is up 27% from last year.
