Margery M. Backstrom Weds Leroy J. Malouf

Holy Name Church was the scene of the marriage Saturday morning of Margery Moran Backstrom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Backstrom of N. Clontario Road, and Leroy John Malouf, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Malouf of Trinidad, Colo.

The bride wore a gown of ivory peau de soie fashioned with a controlled A-line skirt and Western train. Seed pearls and crystal beading accented the skirt and bodice, the same beading used on the pill box to which her bouffant veil was secured. She carried a cascade of white carnations with touches of blue delphinium and ivy.

GRETTCHEN KEEFFE of Birmingham was maid of honor, and bridesmaids included Adah Mary Connor of Grosse Pointe; Carol Nicholas of Pontiac; Sarah Smith of Birmingham, a cousin of the bride, and Candace Stewart, also of Birmingham. They all wore floor-length gowns of white. Gossamer over aqua taffeta and carried sprays of light blue delphinium and ivy.

Mr. Malouf was his son's best man, and ushers were William Backstrom, brother of the bride; John Connor of Grosse Pointe; Timothy Daly of Bloomfield Hills; Scott Keeffe and Keith Stark of Birmingham, and Michael Dambo of Royal Oak. Altar boys were Sidney W. Smith and Jeffrey Stewart.

Following a breakfast and reception at Orchard Lake Country Club, the newlyweds left on a trip to the Pocono Mountains.

Wedding in Nashville Draws Localites

A number of Birmingham people traveled to Nashville, Tenn., over the week end to attend the marriage there on Saturday of Mary Ann Woods, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dillon Woods, and Robert Ferrell Baer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Edward Baer of Birmingham.

The noon ceremony, followed by a reception in the home of the bride's parents, took place in St. Henry's Catholic Church.

A floor-length ivory gown of French net accented by Alencon lace and seed pearls was chosen by the bride for her wedding. It was worn over peau de soie and further distinguished by a cathedral train. Her full-length veil was secured to a crown of lace and tiny pearls, and she carried a cascade of white orchids and stephanotis.

KATHRYN GORDON WOODS, wearing floor-length pink chiffon and carrying a cascade of pink sweetheart roses, was her sister's only attendant.

Charles Edward Baer, Jr., brother of the bridegroom, was best man, and ushers included Michael Voss of Birmingham; William Blair Boyce of Sumner, Ia.; Arthur Collins Woods II, brother of the bride; John Paul O'Donnell of Atlanta, Ga.; and Dr. Joseph Vincent O'Donnell of St. Louis, Mo. John Joseph Woods, brother of the bride, and James Rochford, a cousin of the bridegroom, were acolytes.

Following a wedding trip through the South, the couple will make their home in Birmingham.

Papal Blessing Bestowed At Miller-Cody Rites

Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills was well represented Saturday morning at St. Paul's on the Lake when Mary Louise Cody, daughter of the Frederick K. Codys of Stratford Place, Grosse Pointe, exchanged marriage vows with Daniel August Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Miller, also of Grosse Pointe.

Mary Lou and Dan were married by Msgr. Frank J. McPhillips at an 11 o'clock ceremony, during which a papal blessing was bestowed.

The bride wore a gown of white silk peau de soie with a fitted bodice and semi-fared skirt ending in a circular train. Her mantilla veil was of re-embroidered lace and fell to the end of her train. She carried a cascade of white roses.

FREDERICK A. CODY was her father's maid of honor, and bridesmaids included Susan Crain of Birmingham; Gretchen Wollensh of Grosse Pointe; Mary Lou Miller, sister of the bride; Suzanne Weiss of Grosse Pointe; Donna Miller, another sister of the bridegroom, and Angela Cody, youngest sister of the bride.

They all wore pencil slim, gowns of yellow linen with embroidered lace basque necklines. Attached to the back of the fitted watawa were small bows and streamers of the same material. They wore circles of daisies and their hair carried baskets of the same flowers.

John Miller, Jr., of Warren was best man for his brother, and seating the guests were Frederick K. Cody, Jr., Les Wells of Milwaukee, Wis.; Stephen Robertson of York, Pa.; and Charles Krebs of Grosse Pointe.

Following a reception at the Country Club of Detroit, the couple left on a trip to the Great Smoky Mountains, after which they will make their home in Rhinelander, Wis.

Colorful Reception Follows Wedding

A tent bedecked with topiary trees, a dance floor outlined by the same quaint decor and a swimming pool floating dozens of colorful flowers set the scene Saturday for the luncheon and reception given by Mr. and Mrs. Edgar A. Guest, III, of Bingham Lane, following the marriage of their daughter, Ellen Elizabeth, to Jerry Gail Brookbank, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Brookbank of Greenville, O.

The couple repeated their vows at 11 o'clock in St. Regis Church, Birmingham, with the Rev. Fr. Thomas Shindler officiating.

THE BRIDE WORE AN ivory satin gown designed with a high rise waist, scoop neckline and three-quarter sleeves. Re-embroidered Alencon lace trimmed with seed pearls was applied in the bodice and cascaded down the front of the gown. An heirloom Duchesse lace cathedral veil, worn by her mother, completed the ensemble. She carried glimmillas, stephanotis and variegated ivy.

Her four attendants, all in Nile green sheaths with floor-length overskirts and whimsy veils with matching bows in their hair, included Jane Guest, maid of honor for her sister, and bridesmaids Janet Colvin of Philadelphia, Pa.; Mrs. Edgar A. Guest III of Birmingham and Marjorie Sobell of Detroit, cousin of the bride. They all carried white glimmillas. James Brookbank was best man for his brother, and seating the guests were another brother, John; Edgar A. Guest III; David Dergast of Columbus, O., and Henry Sobell III of Detroit, cousin of the bride. Immediately following the reception, the couple left on a trip east, after which they will make their home in Granville.

Mulock-Rodgers Nuptial Solemnized in East

Neville Stone Rodgers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Maurice Rodgers of Norwalk, Conn., was married Saturday to Edwin McCord Mulock III, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin McCord Mulock, Jr., of Greenwich Conn., formerly of Hillsdale, Pa. The Rev. Francis L. Drake performed the single ring ceremony in St. Paul's Episcopal Church. A reception followed at the Longshore Club in Westport, Conn.

The bride, escorted by her father, wore an empire gown of silk linen with a full-length veil attached to a Dior bow. She carried a triple cascade of white glimmillas.

Jean Farrine Rodgers, the bride's sister, was the maid of honor. She wore a full-length pink floral print gown and carried a rounded bouquet of yellow carnations with yellow and pink sweetheart roses.

BRUCE KNIGHE MULOCK was best man for his brother, John Gilbert Crocker and John Gilmore Rodgers, brother of the bride, were ushers.

Mrs. Mulock was graduated from the University of Vermont and Katharine Gibbs School in New York. Mr. Mulock is an alumnus of Princeton University and Michigan State University and did graduate work at the University of Virginia.

After a wedding trip to Block Island, R.I., the couple will live in Rye, N. Y.

Local Boy is Married At Ceremony in East

Lana Beth Hough, daughter of Mrs. Melvin S. Hough of Mt. Lebanon, Pa., and the late Mr. Hough, spoke her marriage vows Saturday to Richard C. Ferguson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leland G. Ferguson of Birmingham.

The ceremony took place in Bower Hill Community Church, Mt. Lebanon, with the bridegroom's brother, Rev. Philip L. Ferguson, and the Rev. William Barker officiating.

The bride wore white organza accented by a trim of Alencon lace and pearls. Her bouffant veil was of silk illusion and she carried white roses and trailing ivy.

SHERRY Westerland of New York was maid of honor, and bridesmaids included Gretchen Sigler of Mt. Lebanon and Sandra DeMarino of Meadville, Pa. They all wore floor-length gowns of pink chiffon and carried nosegays of pink roses, carnations and ivy. Leland Dehen of Pleasant

Hills, Pa., was best man, and the ushers all Sigma Nu fraternity brothers of the bridegroom from Carnegie Institute of Technology, included Peter Mangerville, Andrew Logan and Charles Anderson.

Following a wedding trip through the South, the couple will spend the summer in Dearborn. In the fall they will return to Pittsburgh, where the bride will teach and her husband will begin work on his doctorate at Carnegie.

Tradition Plays Part In Afternoon Wedding

Wearing her mother's wedding gown of ivory satin and a heirloom veil of rosepoint lace, also worn by her mother, Barbara Lee Knowlson, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Boyd Knowlson of Birmingham, walked up the aisle of Covenant Baptist Church Saturday afternoon to become the bride of Dwight Leroy Gradin of Saigon, Viet Nam, son of Mr. and Mrs.

Melvin Gradin of Graham, Ore. Mrs. Donald Williams of Detroit was matron of honor, and bridesmaids included Juli Gorman of Chicago, Ill.; Jean Capes of London, Ont., and Linda Knowlson of Fort Wayne, Ind. Suzanne Snyder of Birmingham, cousin of the bride, was flower girl. They all wore pale pink silk, linen and carried rose-banded orchids.
