Poets Discuss Thomas Dylan

Thomas Dylan, the Welsh poet, was the topic of discussion at the June meeting of the Birmingham-Bloomfield Poetry Club, which meets at Alban's the second Monday of each month.

Bard Sean Monk read Dylan's "Over Sir John's Hill" and "Death Shall Have No Dominion." Other poems of Thomas Dylan read by members of the club were "Fern Hill," "In My Craft or Sullen Art" and "The Hand That Signed the Paper."

A SIX-MONTH review of original poems in the club scrapbook was made. With a view toward eventual publication, two poems were selected from those submitted by the members. The favored works are entitled "You and Love are Gone" by Mrs. Franklin Burn and "Midsummer Morning Madness" by Mrs. William Deering.

Other original poems read were "Stress and Strain" by Mrs. James A. Alessandri, "Fate and the Wind" by Mrs. Charles Konfer, "Dental Devastation" by Mrs. William Deering, "Adoption Papers" by Mrs. Franklin Burn and "Was" by Sean Monk.

Plans were made by the group for an open dinner meeting Oct. 12 at Alban's. All persons interested in poetry are invited to the next meeting of the group the second Monday of July.

Teachers Chosen To Staff OU Group For College Study

Two additional faculty members have been appointed to the staff of the Pre-College Study Center July 20-Aug. 7 at Oakland University, Rochester. They are Bert Messy who will teach science explorations and Kenneth Hull, mathematics enrichment.

Ninety-two students are already enrolled for the center, program of study skills improvement designed to bridge the gap between high school and college.

THE CENTER is available as a resident or non-resident program. Each student is enrolled in the Study Skills Workshop, and each has a choice of two out of three enrichment courses.

Messy teaches in the Hazel Park school system where he has offered an honors science course for junior high students. Hull is chairman of the mathematics department at Southfield High School.

B'ham Resident Directs Program

Dr. W. Ray Smittle, 30555 Vernon, Birmingham, chairman of the educational administration department of Wayne State University, will direct a summer session and represent Wayne State in a 14-month cooperative program sponsored by the Mott Foundation.

Recipients of $8,000 fellowships taking part in the program include two school principals who live in Birmingham, Harry J. Jones, 15581 Amherst, and Robert L. McBride, 235 Poppleton.

FIFTEEN SCHOOL administrators from five states and one foreign country will be prepared to play "a more effective role in community school administration," a spokesman said.

The program will begin July 1 with a summer session at WSU and continue with a nine-month work and study period in Flint.

Program will terminate Aug. 31, 1965.
