GRAVES-ALTMANSBERGER

Karen Marie Altmansberger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Altmansberger of Apple Lane, Bloomfield Hills, spoke her marriage vows Saturday afternoon to Mark Ralph Graves, son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas C. Graves of Bantam, Conn.

Immediately following the ceremony, which was solemnized at Kirk-in-the-Hills, a reception was given at Orchard Lake Country Club, after which the couple left on a trip east.

The bride wore a regal gown of crystal white mousseline de soie accented with peau d'ange lace. A matching lace crown frosted with pearls held her bouffant veil of silk illusion and she carried Alencon lilies, lilies of the valley and ivy.

MRS. JOHN BEVELACQUA of New Jersey was matron of honor, and bridesmaids included Barbara Winkler of Freshlin and Nancy Dean Altmansberger, sister of the bride. They wore delphinium blue silk organza and blending court caps with halo veils.

Clark D. Graves was his brother's best man, and seating the guests were J. David Evangelisti of Bantam, Conn.; Richard A. Altmansberger, brother of the bride; Robert E. Goodwin of Litchfield, Conn.; and Dr. Harvey W. Hayden of Suffield, Conn.

Following their honeymoon, the couple will live in East Lansing.

DAVIS - PECK

Wearing a traditional gown of silk organza trimmed in fine Chantilly lace, Carol Susan Peck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor L. Peck of Birmingham, walked up the aisle of the First Methodist Church Saturday afternoon to exchange nuptial vows with Robert Clark Davis of Clawn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford H. Davis of Lake Worth, Fla.

The bridal robes were fashioned with a bateau neckline, three-quarter sleeves and full skirt which extended into a chapel train of lace. A full, three-tiered veil was secured to a pearlized crown of orange blossoms.

MRS. EDWARD R. CLARK of Southfield was matron of honor and bridesmaids included Susan McDowell of Jackson; Diane Martin of Birmingham; Judy Jones of Farmington; and Mrs. David Hallock of Plymouth. They were all gowned identically except for color: The honor attendant was in peacock satin; the bridesmaids in aqua. They carried yellow daisies and ivy.

John S. Haynes of Birmingham was best man, and seating the guests were Stewart L. Peck, brother of the bride; Robert Kirkpatrick of Bloomfield Hills; John Mappleback of Dearborn Heights and Robert Chalmers of Clawson.

Following a reception in the Fellowship Hall of the Church, the newlyweds left on a wedding trip through the New England States. They will be at home in Clawson on their return.

ADLER - BURGESS

From Pompano Beach, Fla., comes news of the marriage there on Saturday of Brooke Burgess, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Burgess, formerly of Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills, and James Richard Adler of New York City, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Henry Adler of Shaker Heights, O.

The bride chose for her wedding, which was solemnized at home, a traditional gown of white peau de soie accented by a bodice of Alencon lace re-embroidered with seed pearls. Her bouffant veil was secured to a handmade silk rose and she carried a bouquet of Amazon lilies and stephanotis.

GAIL MERRELL BURGESS was her sister's maid of honor and another sister, Carol Ann, was a bridesmaid. They wore maize yellow organza over peau de soie and carried yellow and white roses.

Thomas W. Adler, brother of the bridegroom, was best man and William F. Burgess III, brother of the bride, was an usher.

Following a wedding trip to Bermuda, the couple will make their home in New York City.
