MRS. COLLON

MRS. MARTIN

MRS. TREGENZA

Christ Church Cranbrook was the scene of the marriage Saturday afternoon, of Jane Allen Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Erwin Wilson of Guilford Road, Bloomfield Hills, and David J. Collon, son of Dr. and Mrs. David J. Collon of Romeo.

The Rt. Rev. Robert L. DeWitt, formerly of Christ Church Cranbrook, now bishop of Pennsylvania, and the Rev. John H. Albrecht officiated at the ceremony, which was followed by a reception at Bloomfield Hills Country Club.

THE BRIDE wore a Bianchi gown of peau de soie fashioned with an A-line skirt. The demitiffed bodice was accented by a petite bow, and floral beading graced the bodice and skirt. A Watteau train swept from just below the shoulder line at the back, and a tiny pillbox embroidered in pearls and crystals secured her veil of French silk illusion. Her flowers were white roses and stephanotis.

Mrs. John Patrick MacManus was her sister's matron of honor, and bridesmaids included Jocelyn Scofield, Mrs. Charles Bennett, Mrs. Ralph Watts, Jr., sister of the bridegroom; Nancy Collins, Mary Everhardus and Ashley Mulholland.

Dr. Collon was his son's best man, and ushers were John Hayden, Thomas E. Wilson, Jr., brother of the bride; Ralph Watts, Jr., Robert Lovell, Bruce McLenna, and Albert Charles Leader.

A papal blessing from His Holiness Pope Paul VI was conferred upon Denise Taylor and Joseph Patrick Martin at the conclusion of the nuptial ceremony Saturday in the Jesuit Church of the Gesù uniting them in marriage. The Rev. Allan J. Farrell S.J., former dean of the graduate school of the University of Detroit, officiated at the ceremony at high noon.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dawson Taylor, of Lowell Ct., Bloomfield Hills, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Martin of East Maple Road, Birmingham.

THE MAID of honor was Mary Christine Taylor, sister of the bride, and the bridesmaids were Kathryn Martin, sister of the bridegroom; Carolyn Krush and Mary Helen Taylor, the bride's cousin. They wore identical floor-length gowns of pale yellow pique with yellow and white Shiffi embroidery. Their headpieces were wreaths of the same material and they carried crescent shaped bouquets of shasta daisies and ivy.

Declan O'Donnell was best man and seating the guests were the bride's brother, Dawson Taylor, Jr.; her cousin, James Taylor; Hugh Dean Jr., Paul Williams, Edward McCraty III and Dr. Daniel Scanlon.

TRILEIGHT-MORTON Candlelight silk faille fashioned with a scoop neckline and elbow-length sleeves of re-embroidered helloom lace fashioned the bridal robes when Jill Miriam Morton repeated her nuptial vows to William Kenneth Tregenza, Jr., Saturday evening at Kirk-in-the-Hills.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Morton of Allendale, N.J., formerly of Birmingham, and her husband's parents are Dr. and Mrs. William K. Tregenza of Bloomfield Hills.

THE BRIDESMAIDS, all of whom wore Celine blue floor-length gowns of silk with overblouses and long sleeves of white tulle, was her sister's honor attendant; Barbara Splawn of Birmingham; Penny Murvin of Olney, Ill.; Nancy Tregenza, sister of the bridegroom, and Holly Morton, who was a junior bridesmaid for her sister.

THE DAVID Bartlesons' son, J. D., writes from MSU that he has been dissecting a shark's head in his biology lab. He has a six-week scholarship from the National Science Foundation to study biology and math.
