

College Move Aided by B'ham Women

Mrs. Hermine Wilson of 1256 Brookwood has announced new members of the Birmingham committee for Pine Manor Junior College's move to its new campus. They are Mrs. G. Lincoln Gibson, Jr., of 19008 Shrewsbury Road, Detroit, and Mrs. Donald G. Neill of 892 Eastover Drive, Bloomfield Township.

Pine Manor, a two-year liberal arts college for women, is now situated in Wellesley, Mass. The college will open its doors in September, 1966, on a 79-acre campus in Chestnut Hill, only five miles from the center of Boston.

THE CORNERSTONE was laid recently for the first of two dormitory quadrangles on the new site. A dining center is also under construction, while existing estate buildings are being renovated for a temporary library, classrooms, and administrative offices.

Other members of the planning committee are Mrs. Roger P. Craun of 379 Tilbury Road, Birmingham, and L. Halsted of 4053 Spruill Hill Drive, Mrs. E. Ross Hanson of 966 N. Glenhurst and Mrs. Herbert H. Upton, Jr., of 2008 Day St., Ann Arbor. All the committee members are Pine Manor alumnae.

Accident Victim In Fair Condition

In fair condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital following an auto accident on M-59 is Sonia Bloom, 2631 Dewey, West Bloomfield Township.

Miss Bloom, 48, suffered facial cuts and possible head injuries when she drove her car into a mound of earth at 3:27 a.m. Monday in Waterford Township.

She told police that she hit a dirt pile near Cass Lake Road while traveling southeast on M-59.

Pre-College Parley Includes Resident

Helen Sinclair, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas T. Sinclair, of 1508 Sedon Lake Drive, Bloomfield Hills, is attending a pre-college summer workshop for recent high school graduates at the University of Tampa.

Now in its third year, the pre-college workshop was pioneered in Central Florida by the University of Tampa. It has shown rapid growth, with 150 students this year contrasted with 70 in 1963. Fourteen states and one foreign country, Venezuela, are represented in this summer's enrollment. Miss Sinclair is a graduate of Bloomfield Hills High School.

homicide bureau this case could be and would be reopened and a new warrant recommended," Silverman said.

DEFENSE ATTORNEY Konrad D. Kohl argued to have the case against his client dismissed once and for all.

"The prosecution has had a chance to present any and all evidence and their proof does not meet the test for showing guilt," he said.

"I think it would be proper to dismiss the charge with prejudice and certain evidence seized be returned to my client," he said.

Kohl was referring to articles of clothing taken from Thorsen's auto during the investigation of the case.

Recorder's Judge Elvin L. Davenport said that he had no power to do what Kohl asked but said the opinion was "well stated."

In essence the case now stands where it did the morning after Mrs. Thomas' body was found, but Silverman said his office would not move on it "unless direct proof" was found.

Kohl said he and his client could "ask no more."

to consider improving Maple Road east of Coolidge.

"I CANNOT agree, however, with the development of Coolidge into a boulevard or multilaned roadway," Burgum said. "I think the developers should construct their own access drive on their property to run along Coolidge."

City Manager L. R. Gare said he believes the development will have a favorable impact on the Birmingham-Bloomfield area.

"It appears we will have to face up, however, to the fact that Coolidge will have to be improved," he said.

POLICE CHIEF Ralph W. Moxley said there is no question in his mind that a traffic problem would be created on East Maple because of the development.

"Although it will probably be objectionable to the residents of the area, Coolidge will have to be improved between Maple and Big Beaver to handle the traffic volumes," Moxley said.

From a traffic control standpoint, Moxley said, he preferred the construction of a boulevard over a multiple-lane highway.

"The boulevard would take care of motorists who were turning left and cut down the hazards created by such movements on a multilaned street," he said.

BURGM ADDED that he believed Birmingham would remain the "focal point" of high-class shopping activity in the area.

"It's just natural that any residential development on the west side of Troy would be attracted to downtown Birmingham," he said. Cohen said the development site "has more potential than any other area in metropolitan Detroit."

Besides the property along Coolidge, he said, the project will also extend eastward to Crooks along a 200-foot corridor. He added that the complex will be the largest apartment house development ever started in Michigan and one of the largest in the nation.

TENTATIVE PLANS call for the development to feature garden-type apartments, town houses and luxury high-rise buildings set in landscaped parks with provisions for parking for all tenants.

Construction is scheduled to begin in late October and will take two or three years to complete.

Other principals in the development are Philip and Max Stollman and Sam Frankel Associates.

School Magazine Carries Article By Supt. Smith

An editorial by Birmingham School Supt. John Blackhall Smith is featured in the summer edition of the magazine Educational Equipment and Materials.

Titled "Innovate or Deteriorate," the editorial asserts that "the combination of increased enrollments, higher salaries, greater quality of course offerings and added years to the school program" call for innovation if the national economy is to support them.

Dr. Smith goes on to discuss some elements of change. He describes the team-teaching programs he pioneered in Lexington, Mass., and Greenwich, Conn., as examples.

FROM THESE he has arrived at two strong convictions: that "our citizenry is ready for innovation" and that "no change is going to achieve its potential unless the professional staff is involved."

The magazine also features an article on the Dundee Elementary

Said Chancellor D. B. Varner, "The University is most happy to have this necessary project so handsomely financed."

"It's an indispensable part of undergraduate life in any American university, and we're fortunate to have this utility free and clear so early in our life."

Dead Captain's Dog Lost; Found After Five Days

For an anxious five days last week, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Groves waited to hear the bark signalling the return of their schnauzer, Mitzi.

They were rewarded with a phone call early Tuesday morning from Mrs. Carl Koche of Birmingham who found the dog on Adams near Wattle Road, near the home of a longtime friend of the Groves' family.

THE BLACK and gray dog, nearly 15 years old, had great sentimental value to the family, according to Mrs. Groves.

He was a favorite companion of their son, the late Capt. Michael Groves, who died of a heart attack a week after serving as honor guard for the funeral of President John F. Kennedy.

Mitzi, wearing no identification collar, ran off from the Groves' home at 249 Euclid during the storm Thursday night.
