International Incident

Waiting to become grandparents can be an anxiety-fraught experience, especially when news of the event must wend its way to Birmingham from Scotland.

Those wide grins being featured by Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Le Messurier of Dorchester Road, however, indicate that all is well and that shortly they'll have a first introduction to young Matthew MacLay Goebel, born June 25 (Scotland time); June 26 (our time).

The baby's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Goebel (Judy Le Messurier) were en route home from Wadi Halfa in the Sudan when tiny Matt made his entrance into this vale of tears.

His pretty young mother was detained a month in a Scottish hospital, with no less than TWO famous physicians in attendance: Prof. Ian Donald, recently written up in a national magazine, and Sir John Peale, private obstetrician to Queen Elizabeth.

And (note to all youthful couples with a yen for travel!), there was no charge for this splendid attention—tourists are guests of Socialized Medicine in Scotland.

Jerry, who was chief cartographer for the University of Colorado's Nubian Expedition in Africa, and Judy expect to spend most of the summer in Birmingham, with side trips to the Le Messurier summer home on Higgins Lake and out to Grosse Pointe to be with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Goebel.

It's A Small World

There's an international flavor to romance this week, too, with the announcement of Sally Jean Nickerson's engagement to Dr. Oscar Mario Guillaumodegui, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar N. Guillaumodegui of Buenos Aires, Argentina.

Sally, who is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Dean Nickerson of Golfview Drive, Birmingham, is a graduate of St. Mary's Academy and attended Central Michigan University.

Her fiancé is a graduate of Buenos Aires University Medical School and is currently a surgical resident at Harper Hospital.

The couple is planning a September wedding. Additional engagement news revolves around Nancy Baromeo and Andrew R. Horvath, who have recently set Aug. 29 as the date of their marriage in Christ Church Cranbrook.

NANCY BAROMEO AND ANDREW HORVATH

Nancy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chase Baromeo of Birmingham (for a number of years he was a star with La Scala and head of the voice dept. at U. of M.) and her fiancé is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Michael Horvath, formerly of New York.

The bride-elect has just returned from France where she taught at the Army Dependents School near Bordeaux. She attended the University of Colorado and was graduated from Eastern Michigan University. Andrew is a graduate of Hobart College in New York.

The family will leave shortly for their summer home on the French River in Canada, returning in early August to complete wedding preparations.

Add bridal news:

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Field Manny of Metamora, formerly of Birmingham, announce the marriage on May 29 of their daughter, Karen Allison, to Clifton Barclay Rohder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Rohder, also of Metamora.

The ceremony was solemnized in Grace Episcopal Church, Lapeer, after which the bridegroom returned to Camp Dix, expecting to complete his boat training within the next few weeks.

Did You Know . . .

That in Pennsylvania it's a Bull Band; in Oklahoma, a Shivarree; in good, old Birmingham, just a bon voyage party with sound effects—which is what neighbors on Bates St. achieved the other night when they marched over to the Charles Tolands' house . . . a noisy send-off commemorating the honoree's trip to Denmark . . . travelers, accompanied by son John, to be back in another couple of weeks . . .

That this month's cover page on "Impressario" (high class culture slick) is not only an elegant color shot of Jimmy and Joey Nederlander but planned and executed by B'ham's own free lance photographer, Sam Fowler . . .

That this year's famed Meadow Brook Ball netted $35,200 for scholarships at Oakland University . . .

That Mr. and Mrs. William J. Black (the former Mrs. Harry Dunn) are back in town from their home on Isle of Venice, Fort Lauderdale, Fla., and that parties honoring the ebullient Eugenie are already lined up . . . Mrs. George Goodwin and Mrs. Carl Snyder among the first to hostess a luncheon . . . tomorrow at the Village Woman's club . . .

Fun, Food and Fireworks Spark Area Celebrations

BY GLORIA JESSUP
MA 4-3257

It was a combination of fun, food and fireworks when a few neighbors gathered at the Samuel Carman home on Lone Pine Road on the Fourth of July.

Attending the informal barbeque were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Jenkins, Mr. and Mrs. Herb Ewald, the John Youngs, the Richard Youngbloods, Mr. and Mrs. Max Linder, the George Rickerds and the Bud Nostzals.

THE GATHERING at the A. C. Clark home on Wing Lake Road on the Fourth was two-fold. It was a reunion of college friends of Mrs. Clark's and a bon voyage to one of the guests.

Coming to spend the day were Mrs. John Crumpler and her three boys. They are on a stop over from Virginia for a visit with relatives and friends and will shortly join Col. Crumpler in Germany.

Also joining the Clark and Crumpler families for the day was Susanne Tusing of Detroit.

WITH ALL the guests coming to the Wing Lake area for the Fourth, there was one family that was just going. The Brooke Stanfords, also of Wing Lake Road, just packed and gathered up sons, Lynn, Gyl, Clay and daughter Peggy, and took off for parts unknown.

The Frank Gaya home on Crabtree, Foxcroft, was teaming with youngsters over the Fourth and the week following. Houseguests were Mrs. Gaya's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Knisely and their five children and her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Sandberg, all from New Jersey.

Mr. and Mrs. Steven Meyer and their two sons journeyed from Pittsburgh, Pa., to be the house guests of Dr. and Mrs. Stanley Levy of Bywood Road over the Fourth of July week end.

THE RALPH GIBOUTS of Karen Lane welcomed their son-in-law and daughter, the Daniel Schuylers home over the holiday week end. The Schuylers flew in from Evanston, Ill.

The Gibouts, with sons Bob and Rich, recently returned from a three-week motor trip. They made the complete circle with stops in Williamsburg, Washington, D.C., Virginia Beach, New York and the Fair, continued through the New England states, on to Montreal and home.

Off again on their cruiser, the RECREAM, were Nanc and Bill Carrick of Ranch Lane. The previous week end they were joined by the PLAYBOY, and it's captain and first mate, Harry and Lois Hosck. The two couples cruised down to Put-In-Bay, O., for a fun week end.

BOB KURAS, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kuras of Tootmoor, Gilbert Lake, returned home recently after spending five months in Europe.

Bob, who is a senior at Notre Dame working on an AB premed, was among the 200 American students (men and women) who were privileged to participate in the program run by Loyola of Chicago. He flew from Chicago to Rome and lived about five minutes north of Rome in the Olympic building of 1960.

His travels took him to Switzerland, East and West Germany, France, England, Ireland, the Netherlands, Belgium, Luxembourg, Czechoslovakia, Austria and throughout Italy. During Easter vacation he traveled 3,000 miles and at semester's end traveled for another two weeks.

Special attractions included the Mardi Gras in Nice and skiing in the Alps. The two and one half days Bob spent behind the iron curtain he said "were very educational, but makes one appreciate democracy."

His comments on Berlin were that "in its living tyranny it is more than can be described or understood."

Bob enjoyed touring Rome and he liked the Italians extremely well, but got awfully tired of Italian food. The good old American institution, "the hot dog," tasted especially good upon his return.

will be held Sunday, July 12, beginning at 8 p.m.

Mrs. Orval Oppertbauer opened her Bywood Road home for a potluck luncheon and committee meeting last Thursday to complete plans for the annual event.

Formality Goes Down the Drain

Now that the debutante season is over, pretty Sheryl Lynn Chapman (only Birmingham girl who bowed this June) and her equally attractive mother, Mrs. Betty E. Chapman of Beech Road, are embracing the kind of informal life they love: Horseback riding, swimming, water skiing—anything so long as it's out of doors. Interspersed with these summertime activities will be a trip east for Sheryl, who plans to visit classmates from Lasell Junior College in New York, Boston and Cape Cod. An art major school, Sheryl made her debut at a tea given at the Little Club by her grandmother, Mrs. Arthur F. Hoffman of Grosse Pointe. This was preceded by a similar glamor party given for the deb by her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Earl, in Florida.
