All Highways Lead East For Busy B'field Family

BY ELEANOR NELSEN MI 7-0056

During the month of June the Wilfred Bauknights of S. Glengarry Road traveled the highways eastward so often they were beginning to know their way in the dark.

On June 1 their son, Brian Kelley Bauknight was graduated from the Drew University School of Theology in Madison, Wis., with the highest honors in humanities.

On June 4 he was ordained into the Methodist Ministry by Bishop Vernon Middleton in Pittsburgh, Penn., and appointed pastor of Circleville Methodist Church in Irwin, Penn.

THE BAUKNIGHTS returned to the Pittsburgh area the week end of June 20 when their daughter Vanita was united in marriage to Thurman Riddle. Their son Brian officiated at the wedding.

Their younger daughter, Clarence, was not to be left out of the limelight. She had completed her freshman year at Allegheny College in Meadville, Penn., as an Aiden Scholar and was on the President's Honor List.

The Bauknights still found time to welcome house guests. Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Kelley of Tucson, Ariz., who had attended the wedding of Vanita in Mt. Lebanon, stayed with them for a few days before returning to their home.

NANCY SUE WHITSON, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Whitson of S. Williamsburg, returned home on June 25, after flying to Minneapolis, Minn., for a 10-day trip during which time she attended the Dancing Caravan, a dancing teachers convention.

The best dancing teachers in the country acted as instructors for the classes, which were held from nine in the morning until five thirty every afternoon.

A few steps and interpretations were learned by those attending and will be added to their present teachings when classes begin in the fall. A trip to Europe will be the award for the best dancing school instructor next year.

Although Nancy headquartered at the Leamington Hotel she still found time to visit her maternal grandmother, Mrs. J. E. Edwards who lives in Minneapolis and also other relatives who live nearby.
