

There Isn't Any Boundary Anymore

STIRRING UP THE NATIVES

Birmingham attracted a couple of prominent couples last week who came out from Detroit to talk, respectively, about projects dear to their hearts—projects engendering festivity and an appeal to the local citizenry.

Over the luncheon table at Fox and Hounds, Mr. and Mrs. J. Leslie Berry relayed news of the Circumnavigators Club, and the following evening Mr. and Mrs. I. Himelboch were co-hosts with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Chuck Himelboch (who live out here), at cocktails at the BOH, when plans were revealed for a star-studded party marking the Detroit Symphony's 50th year.

LOCAL COLOR

It wasn't any news that the Circumnavigators have planned their annual "do" Aug. 2 at the John D. Richardson, Jr., on N. Glenary Road, for the locale has been the same for the past four years.

Theme of the party, however, is a switch, with everybody going as wild west as Wyatt Earp. The "JDR Ranch" will play host to sheriffs, tin horn gamblers, gun-slinging cowpokes, ladies following the fashions of "Gunsmoke" or gals from the Crystal Saloon.

One hundred and fifty pounds of beef (240 guests are expected) will sizzle temptingly all afternoon on a 20-ft. outdoor grill—enclosed by a split rail fence—other enticing fare to include spareribs, prairie chicken, corn and black-eyed beans.

Over dessert at Fox and Hounds the other day, Mr. Berry reminded his guests that the Circumnavigators Club was incorporated in 1911 in New York. There are less than 900 living members in the world; 225 from Michigan; 91 from Birmingham-Bloomfield.

VIP'S ON DECK

Among those attending the Richardson party will be Branch President and Mrs. Edwin O. George, International President and Mrs. George Pierot, Mr. and Mrs. Don Ahrens, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Curria, the Frederick E. Booths, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Kinsey, the Henry C. Johnsons and Consul and Mrs. Norman H. Birnkrant.

For the record: In order to be eligible for membership in Circumnavigators, one must have traveled around the world in one continuous journey with some purpose (other than pleasure) or goal in mind.

GLITTER FOR SYMPHONY

According to blond and bubbling Isabelle Himelboch, who took over as speaker at the BOH party, 1964 marks the golden anniversary of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra. It also marks Sixten Erhling's first year as permanent conductor and (another landmark) it is a year in which the orchestra will be performing at Carnegie Hall in New York.

As a kick-off to the 1964-65 season, Himelboch will present a cocktail-fashion show Sept. 12 at 6 p.m. at the Detroit Golf Club, with fall fashions of Teal Traina to be shown members and guests of the Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra and Junior Women's Association.

STAMP OF HIGH FASHION

Mr. Traina, ladies, will be present in person and so will Vogue Magazine's Grace Van Dyke, who will commentate a show built around Fair Lady Fashions, this a bow in the direction of the soon-to-be-released "My Fair Lady" movie.

Warner Brothers Studio will fly original costumes designed by Cecil Beaton and worn by Audrey Hepburn into Detroit for the fashion show.

Steering committee for this glamor event includes Isabelle as program chairman; Mrs. Milton Basson, Mrs. Cecil Akroyd, Mrs. Russell Bauer, Mrs. Glen Bibby, Mrs. John Ganshow, Mrs. Richard Tucker, Mrs. Joseph Vance, Jr., and Mrs. Murray Young.

OPERATION CONTINUOUS

During the summer months, when most organizations lay aside their gavel 'til September, there's one group in town that continues its fund-raising not only with persistence but a flair.

Patio parties and garden luncheons are on the agenda—sort of par for the course—but in addition the ladies are now following the horses!—busily involved in reading racing forms instead of the week's best seller.

who are keeping social calendars heavily circled, their recent night-at-the-races preceded by a cocktail party for 50 given by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Churches of Bloomfield Hills.

Later, at the Wolverine Harness Raceway, "Guy Wil," driven by jockey Wally McMillurray came in first for charity. Over 100 guests enjoyed dinner in the Club House preceding post time.

Currently, a number of Birmingham-Bloomfield women are making plans for the second in a series of Auxiliary luncheons to be given July 22 in St. Ann's Convent gardens on Boston Blvd., Detroit, former home of the late Mr. and Mrs. Walter O. Briggs, now home of the Dominican Sisters of the Sick Poor.

Among the group are Mrs. Aloysius F. Power, Mrs. John J. Gibson, Mrs. Louis P. Fontana, Mrs. Edward V. Ott, Mrs.

George Murdoch, Mrs. James M. Roche and Mrs. Charles David.

They're working under co-chairmen Mrs. Michael J. Swift and Mrs. Richard Mrowczynski, both of Lathrup Village.

PEOPLE ARE TALKING . . .

About the excitement being generated by the Meadow Brook Festival opening next (time flies!) Thursday evening . . . and a plea from committee heads for informality . . . DON'T tag out, ticket holders . . . there's no diamond horseshoe in Baldwin Pavilion . . . it was planned that way . . .

About Florine (Mrs. George) Trumbull's picture hat worn to the Flint-Knudson wedding Saturday . . . a brimmed confection combining white straw with lush, full-blown roses ranging in color from ruby to pale pink . . . most becoming on one whose soigneé coif is usually unadorned . . .

About local merchant Bob Gwynn, who claims it's high time reporters took note of masculine sartorial splendor . . . well, we WERE impressed by the cutaways tailored for Dunk (father of the bride) and Ed (father of the bridegroom) at the season's most important wedding . . . light weight material, pearl gray vests and fine, pin dot ascots with matching pocket handkerchiefs are memories we came away with . . . such touches strictly by Gwynn, of course . . .!

Sometimes, over radio and television one hears an announcer speak so rapidly that the words mingle themselves into what is just about a foreign language. Reminds me of the meteorologist whose wife had herpeskeratitis so much that when referring to her talk, he would say: "She speaks at least 150 words a minute, with gusts up to 180." Apparently, then, the meteorologist can't even control her velocity. (GRA)

Neighborhood Notes From Peggy

By MRS. J. F. HAMILTON

Mr. and Mrs. Ross M. Coutts, 1902 Holland, and their three children attended the 37th annual family reunion in Midhurst, Ont., July 4. Among the 160 people who came from all parts of Canada was a bride and groom from Edmonton, Alberta, aged 80 and 82, respectively. The Ross Coutts stayed overnight at the family homestead built in 1856.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald W. Schroeder and family returned Sunday from a vacation trip to Wisconsin. They traveled by boat from Muskegon to Milwaukee, visited Wisconsin Dells and stopped at Tahquamenon Falls, Mich., on their way home. Mrs. William Bernier, 1382 Webster, had her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Donald J. Metz of Baldwin Park, Calif., visiting her recently. Mr. and Mrs. Metz and their four children drove to Birmingham for a ten-day vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Mikesell, Dublin, Ind., were in town for a six-day visit. They divided their time between their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Stuart M. Mikesell, Royal Oak, and the John B. Tabbs, Birmingham. The Mikesells, former residents of Bowers St., report that son David is in basic training at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo.

Mr. and Mrs. John B. Tabb spent four days at Hidden Valley Club, Gaylord, entertaining guests, Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Miller of Chicago. Mr. and Mrs. Warren J. Rutter and family, 1262 Hazel, left Saturday for a vacation at Ronville Lodge, Huntville, Ont. Accompanying them were Mrs. Rutter's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Whitehouse, 5483 Wendover, Troy. The Rutters plan to go on to Holden, Mass., where they will be guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harland Oates, who used to live on Bowers St.

ON THE SPUR OF the moment, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Costini, 1636 Bowers St., decided to put away the paint brushes and lawn mower and fly to Las Vegas, Nev., for a change of scenery. They went on the Champagne Tour, stopping at the Hacienda Motel for a week and returned home July 5.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Gates, 1626 Hazel, and their four children returned home July 6 from a two-week trip east and left again July 8 for a week of camping in Ontario. On their trip east the Gateses traveled to Pittsburgh, Washington and New York. In Pittsburgh they visited Mr. and Mrs. Sam Fatzick and Mr. and Mrs. Eiven Nilson, all former residents of Hazel Street.

The news is that both families have increased in size since they left Birmingham. The Nilsons have a son, one-year-old, and the Fatzicks have a daughter, five months old. In New York the Gates family stopped to see relatives living on farms and adopted a pup, Smokie, born minus a tail.

Her fiancé was graduated from the Royal Military Academy in Sandhurst, England, after which he spent four years in the Royal Artillery.

The couple will be married Sept. 19 in the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, Birmingham.

Metamora Green Rocks 'n' Rolls

Fiddlers Cove rocked and rolled with teens July 10.

The Metamora Green Association, headed by Paul Van Hartsveldt, sponsored a teen dance for teens and young adults of Metamora Green.

The dance was held so that neighbors in Metamora Green might get acquainted. This dance was conducted by a steering committee consisting of Nan Vallee, Paul Quinn, Valerie Hamilton, Cherise Adams and Diane Dorais; their adult advisor, Neil Martin, and his teen assistant, Kathy Rea, who heads the committee.

Cherise, Diane, Nan and Kathy were in charge of refreshments. Chips and coke were, of course, on the menu.

Neil Martin was the supplier of music. He has equipment for amplifying, since he once had his own company in Canada in which he was an agent for different bands. The records were supplied by Neil, too, who has over two thousand. Valerie and Kathy selected the music that was played.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Ford Rea, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Pais and Mr. Jim McCullough were chaperones.

With the kind permission of the residents of Fiddlers Cove, the street was used for the dance.

The dance was successful, with about 40 teens attending.

In approximately six weeks officers will be elected to lead the group. It has been suggested that the group expand to other areas.

Neil will remain adult advisor because of his experience. He once led nine youth groups. He is also Birmingham's representative for the YMCA national conference in Wisconsin.

This was the first of the many activities being planned for Metamora Green teens.
