

Third Generation Dons Heirloom Cap

A lace cap that had been worn by her grandmother and her mother at their weddings held Margaret Ann Bird's bridal veil when she became the bride of Edwin Wilburn Hooker, Jr., July 25 at First Presbyterian Church.

The cap secured a fingertip veil which fell over a gown of ivory peau d'ange. Her flowers were white roses.

MRS. HOOKER, JR.

The candlelight service was followed by a reception given by the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William J. Bird, at Orchard Lake Country Club. The senior Hookers live in Lexington, Miss.

THE BRIDE'S twin, Mrs. Stephen O. Stubbs, was the honor attendant and the bridesmaids were Mrs. David C. Bird, Mrs. Donald Nummer, and Mrs. Charles Rutherford, of Birmingham, Mrs. Peter Patterson, of Ann Arbor, Patricia Boyd, of Lexington, Ky., and Marianne Black, of Spartanburg, S. C.

They were gowned alike in clear blue chiffon with matching Dior hairbows. They carried white carnations and ivy.

Otho H. Hoker, of Lexington, Miss., was his brother's best man.

THE GUESTS were seated by David C. Bird, of Birmingham, Christian Carruth and William C. Stevenson, both of Jackson, Miss., Ken Ellis, of Greenville, Miss., Wyche Hooker and Jack Yates, of Lexington, Miss.

The newlyweds are honeymooning in the East and will live in bridegroom's hometown.

50th Anniversary Is Celebrated By Local Couple

Gilmore Splash Party Features Music, Buffet

By ELLI BLAUMAN
MI 7-1465

The William Gilmore residence on Waltham Road was the scene of a gala splash party last Saturday evening when 50 couples arrived at the party honoring the Christ Child board of directors.

After cocktails and hors d'oeuvres guests gathered at the buffet tables for dinner, carrying their plates to the poolside tables where they ate by candlelight, and there was dancing before and after the midnight swim to music by the Frank Paul Orchestra.

Among the Beverly Hills residents who attended were the Rogers L. Claneys of Sheridan Drive, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Fries of Stillman Drive, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Embrey, Jr., of Hillcrest Blvd., the John J. O'Brien of Verona Circle, and Mr. and Mrs. H. Richard Verbiest of Dunblaine Road.

Also attending were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Giles Kavanagh of Faircrest Drive and the Harry McGowan of Birmingham.

Mr. Kavanagh is a candidate for the second district Court of Appeals, and Mr. McGowan who heads the Birmingham Democratic Club is also the Oakland County chairman for the Senator Phil Hart campaign.

Cochairmen Mrs. Edgar F. Conery, Jr., and Mrs. Henry W. Blackwell of Birmingham were assisted by Mrs. Thomas Lee, also of Birmingham in arranging the affair.

NEIGHBORS MET under the shade of Liz Wyckoff's apple tree last Wednesday afternoon to be introduced to Joyce Lauer, who, with her husband James and five children, recently moved to Dunblaine Road from Arlington Heights, Ill.

Guests were Mrs. Robert Nie-man, Mrs. Donald Lynch, Mrs. Thomas Stahl, Mrs. Cliff Benson, Mrs. Jack Putnam, Mrs. Clifford Brew, Mrs. Phil Reilly, Mrs. Ward White, Jr., Mrs. James Robbins, and Mrs. Thelma Stoessel, mother of the hostess.

The Rempal family of Marguerite Road are back from a four-day trip up north where they saw the Sleeping Bear Dunes, Crystal Lake, Traverse City, Mackinac City, spending a day on the Island before returning home.

MR. AND MRS. DONALD Lynch of Madison Road recently had as house guests Mary Lou's mother Mrs. Louise Glynn and her niece, Holly Erickson, both of San Francisco, for a two-week visit.

A trip to Bob-Lo, dinner at the Top of the Flame, a tour of Northland Center, and a cook out for 16 friends were among the highlights of their visit.

STELLAMAR DRIVE residents Mr. and Mrs. Russell E. McKinney have returned from a two-week cruise with the Howard J. Thomsen family of Bloomfield Village on the Thomas's 63-foot cruiser "Springtime."

The McKinneys flew to Newark, N. J., to meet their long-time friends who came up the Atlantic coast from Florida, continuing with them up the Hudson River through New York state.

They arrived at the Detroit Yacht Club last Wednesday having gone through 35 locks of the Erie Canal at Troy, N. Y., docking at a different yacht club each night of their much-enjoyed trip.

ART AND SHIRLEY Koster of West Rutland Road entertained friends royally the other night, servng T-bone steaks with all the trimmings to Jane and Ken Woodfield, Joyce and Ken Shinn, Oleta and Joe McGinnis, Anne and Bill Wilson, and Shirley and Mike Glass.

Before heading for the recreation room for games, Ken Shinn let Shirley rest while he served the dessert and coffee.

The Koster's recent guests of the D. L. O'Toole's of Bloomfield Hills at Hidden Valley where they spent three days relaxing and playing golf.

July Birthdays Pop Like Firecrackers

There's nothing like getting the whole business wrapped up in one ball of wax and one week in July does it for the Charles Farrell family in Westchester Village: Five birthdays in seven days and this year a double feature on one of those days.

Mr. Farrell was born on July 15; Joan, 13, on July 14; Sheila, 12, on July 15; Son David, 11, on July 17 and Maureen 10, on July 22. Mrs. Robert Meyer, Mrs. Farrell's sister, shares a natal date with David and she and her husband arrived from Chicago to celebrate.

Each celebrant traditionally has his or her own backyard pool party and supper, on the proper date.
