

World Travelers Settle Down At Annual Party

A bunch of the boys (and girls) were whooping it up at the JDR Ranch last Sunday. It was the fourth annual Circumnavigators' Club do which the John D. Richardsons have hosted at their home on N. Glenary Rd.

The Western tone to the party was a twist for this group of travelers who often go in for far more exotic fare than spareribs and black-eyed beans.

But the members took a liking to the idea and turned up at the Richardson corral ready "to shoot it out" with the hundred and 50 pounds of beef, that sizzled away all afternoon on a 20-foot grill, the dozens of ears of corn and all the rest of the trimmings.

The corral bordered on the Richardson swimming pool (left) and in the course of the afternoon about 300 guests, some in Western garb, gathered around it.

Among them was Donna Richardson Powell who has been visiting her brother and sister-in-law for about two weeks. She currently makes her home in Redington Beach on the west coast of Florida.

The Circumnavigators are persons who have gone around the world in one continuous journey and with some objective other than pure pleasure. This is the requirement for membership and there are 31 such qualified persons in the Birmingham-Bloomfield area.

Birmingham-Bloomfield area had not one but several beauty queens to ogle last week.

Eighteen-year-old Linda Lambert, the very first "Miss Bloomfield Hills" in history, took the title right up and into the finals of the Miss Michigan-USA-Universe preliminaries which broke out a mob scene at the Detroit Boat Club last Saturday. Susan Hill, a West Bloomfield Township girl, won the title and kept the whole thing in the family.

It was Linda's first experience in such a project and she "loved every minute of it." Before checking in for her freshman year at MSU, Linda will make a return engagement as Miss BH—at the Michigan State Fair.

Another queen was Rita Loser—who won her title by going out for a quiet dinner with some friends in an Italian Riviera town caught up in carnival time. The judges spotted her sometime between the fish and meat course and crowned her immediately.

Rita and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Karl Loser, have been the house-guests of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Hirt, coming here from Germany by way of the World's Fair and returning by way of Niagara Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. Hirt have just returned from a Far East junket that took them to Japan and Hong Kong.

A highlight for Mrs. H., was meeting Danny Kay personally who she reports is just as nice and friendly off the TV screen as he is on.

Our Foreign Correspondents

Recent communications from the newlywed Richard Ditzches (she was Hun) hedges before her July 4 wedding set them cruising along the Autobahn looking for an apartment.

Richard is an exhibit designer for Opel in Frankfurt as he was for G.M. at the Tech Center here.

According to the latest letter to the folks: "Frankfurt is TOO American and commercial" and Weishuden is the chosen homestead because it "has more atmosphere—next to our beloved Stuttgart."

Stuttgart was the honeymoon destination.

They're Engaged

Miss Radtke

Karen Sue Radtke and Douglas A. Stahle were the center of attraction at the family gathering last Saturday at the DAC. Blue cards tied to the handles of the champagne cups announced their engagement.

Karen, daughter of the Robert A. Radtkes of Bloomfield Hills, is entering her senior year at Purdue this fall. She is a graduate of Bloomfield Hills High. Doug, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Arthur Stahle, of Royal Oak, was graduated from Wayne in June but is working there on his masters.

People Are Talking . . .

About the out-of-this-world party that the Max Fishers gave at the Roostertail. The women guests looked so marvelous in their midsummer finery and the entertainment was super-deluxe, no one less than Louis Armstrong heading the talent parade.

About the picturesque Scottish overtones at the wedding of Rona Duncan Burniston to Birmingham's David Louis Taylor. (The ceremony took place in the bride's hometown, Brookline, Mass.) Clad in full Highland regalia, the bride's cousin did the candle-lighting ceremony and the bride's uncle, who is the organist at Old West Kirk made famous by poet Robert Burns and inventor James Watt, played the ceremonial music. The organist and his family flew over from Scotland for the occasion.

About the new store going up on Pierce that will feature a French elevator (the shaft can already be seen)—the decorative cage-type, that will go right up the center of the building.

Shoreys Spend Vacation Sailing Off Mass. Coast

By ELIZABETH YATES
MI 6-1682

The Fred Shoreys of Northover Drive, their children, Helen and Fred, and a friend, Mike Kelso, left recently for three weeks vacation off the coast of Massachusetts.

They chartered a 40-foot yawl and sailed from Buzzards Bay through the waters around Elizabeth Island, Martha's Vineyard, Nantucket and the many surrounding uninhabited islands.

While sailing they viewed many sailing races between the U. S.

and Britain. The World's Fair was visited on their trip home-ward. The family already is planning a longer sailing trip off the eastern coast next year.

THE ROBERT KELSO family of Greentree Road has been enjoying the summer. Kim Kelso has just returned home after five weeks as a counselor at the Roundup Ranch in the mountains of Colorado.

Mike was the recent guest of the Fred Shorey family of Northover Drive, during a sailing trip off the coast of Massachusetts. Belinda and Janie spent part of their summer at Camp Narin, a Girl Scout camp near Ortonville, Mich. Janie is staying on at camp for another week.

The Kelso family plan to spend a week later in August at a cottage on Black Lake in northern Michigan.

At the same time cottage dwellers near by will be their Greentree Road neighbors, the Byron Dailley family.

JEFF AND JIM Platzer, sons of the George Platzer's Laneragan Drive, have been spending a cool summer figure skating. Nine year old, Jim, has just returned home after a month of skating under the direction of his teacher, Mimi Page, at St. Thomas, Ont.

Thirteen-year-old Jeff, Tim Wood of Birmingham and two out of state boys, Mike Garen and Jim Wolfgang, are in Troy, O., studying under their coach, Ronald Baker. Tim Wood, the son of Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth Wood of Birmingham, is Junior Men's

Trio Plans Shower for Sally Lynch

August bride-elect Sarah Kingsley Lynch will be honored at a kitchen shower Wednesday by Mrs. Luther Leader and her daughter, Jane, and Diana Gornick. Miss Lynch will become the bride of Arthur James Binard, of Roseville, on Aug. 22.

On Aug. 16, Mrs. George W. Stark, Jr., and Mrs. Judge Wesley Bearden will give a poolside supper for the young couple at the Stark home and the following day, Mrs. Myron E. Snyder and her daughter, Christina Myers, will hostess a gathering of Sally and Christa's classmates at Kingswood and Michigan at a gadget shower and dessert party.

THE SPINSTER dinner will be given Aug. 19 by Sally's sister, Mrs. William C. Herrick, at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Webster Lynch in Bloomfield Hills.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Vincent Bonard, parents of the bridegroom, will give the rehearsal dinner Aug. 21.

The wedding will take place in St. Hugo of the Hills, with a reception following at Oakland Hills Country Club.

SALLY HAS already had a miscellaneous shower given by Mrs. Wayne N. Spade, Mrs. Thomas E. Sheehan and Mrs. Andrew G. Brodie on July 20. She was the honor guest of Mr. and Mrs. Martin T. Duggan, Jr., July 11 at a garden party and dinner at which she was introduced to the Binard family and friends. Mrs. Duggan is the former Dolores Binard, sister of the bridegroom-elect.

Mrs. Albrecht Heads B'ham Unit for Mart

Mrs. John Albrecht is chairman of the Birmingham-Bloomfield committee for the Planned Parenthood Christmas Mart to be held Oct. 28 and 29 in Detroit's Veterans' Memorial Bldg.

She shares responsibility with Mrs. Henry M. Woodhouse who represents Detroit's East Side and Mrs. Stanley Winkelman, North End. Mrs. John W. Coe is overall chairman of the event which takes place annually.

An innovation for 1964 will be a preview cocktail and dinner party on the eve of the Mart's opening.

Schoolmates To Be Wed

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Griffith announce the engagement of their daughter, Jane Louise, to James Lyman Bryan III, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Lyman Bryan.

Miss Griffith, a senior at Wellesley College, was graduated from Seaholm High School and attended the University of Florence in Italy. Her fiance, also a Seaholm graduate, is a senior at Harvard.

Hospitality of the Ol' South at Its Best

A "plantation party" could not find a more ideal backdrop than Oakland Hills Country Club which is one of the most striking examples of Southern architecture north of the Mason-Dixon. Last Saturday the members found the juleps flowing, the suckling pig roasting and the tables set out under a real Southern moon—in the finest of barbecue traditions. (Left to right) Dain M. Millman samples the mint drink; Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Nagle and Mrs. David M. Henderson wait for guests in the club's roomy cocktail lounge.
