Happy 39th Birthday — Jack and Leo

GLORIA JESSUP
MA 6-3257

Jack Benny is not the only one who can have a 39th birthday party. Leo Lenhard of E. California Drive was surprised by his wife with just such a party recently.

There were times when Mrs. Lenhard thought the jig was up, and it would not be a surprise after all. And, her husband did not cooperate to the fullest either.

Arrangements were made for him to go directly from work to the restaurant to meet his wife and another couple for dinner. This part worked out fine, but following dinner, Mrs. Lenhard thought she would never be able to pry him out of his chair to go home to the 35 guests.

UPON ARRIVING back home Mr. Lenhard was very surprised to find that the evening was not over but just beginning. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Raich who presented Mr. Lenhard with a blind man's cane equipped with a rear view mirror, a bell, a senior citizen's survival kit and an American flag. The Roger Vogels went along with the theme and presented Mr. Lenhard a violin.

Along about midnight supper time, another (uninvited) guest kept putting in frequent appearances. His name was Winston Churchill. He was a basset hound, and by the end of the evening had achieved the title of "party dog."

THE MOST RECENT party held at Cranbrook Country Club, with approximately 200 members and guests attending, had a Gay Nineties theme.

Old-fashioned store window fronts made up the decor with such shops as the ice cream parlor, the candy shop and the old beach cabana.

The Mark Ridley quartet supplied the music with entertainment by the "Shepherders," a vocal and instrumental group. Frank Rowland was master of ceremonies.

EXTRA ADDED attractions were the high-kicking beauties in the male chorus line. They were Don Boswell, Clyde Boslough, Art Larson, Pete O'Donnell, Frank Kuehn and John Baker.

Bob Hennessey was the master chef and carefully watched over the clam and lobster pits, with raves from the hungry crowd.

Next scheduled event is the "adults only" brunch by pool side this Sunday. The following Friday evening the teen-agers will take over the club for a party.

THE JOHN O'Leary family of Westbrook Parkway has been busy this summer. They, (Mr. and Mrs. and son Kevin, 12) have recently returned from Williamsburg, Va. where they relaxed at the Williamsburg Lodge.

Before the vacation the O'Learys had a full house for a week and a half. Their house guests included Mr. and Mrs. Walter Murphy and daughter Veronica from New York City and Mr. and Mrs. Harold O'Leary and three of their four boys from Long Island.

TO PROVE an old cliché, "Like Mother, Like Daughter," but in this case like father too, young Sandy Mansfield performed like a veteran last Thursday evening.

Sandy had the lead in the rewritten musical Snow White which played at the Greek Theater at Cranbrook. She performed seven dances for her acting debut with proud ma and pa Mansfield (Mr. and Mrs. Ted) looking on.

A NEW house and a new baby. That is the story of the Frank R. Puro family. They moved into their new home at 30277 Spring River Drive, March 31.

And July 10, baby John Gerard arrived weighing 8 pounds, 10 ounces. He joined Mark, 14, and Marchele, 9.

The Purofs are formerly from Allen Park. Mr. Puro attended the University of Detroit and is associated with the Auto Lite Division of Ford Motor Co., Wisom. In their leisure hours (which have been a little scarce these past few months) the Purofs enjoy dancing.

MR. AND MRS. Michael Powers and their 13-year-old son John returned last week end from a two-week vacation trip to Williamsburg, Va. and Nac's Head, N.C. Their motel with pool, right on the beach, afforded them many relaxing hours either in the surf or pool.

The Powers are new residents at 30255 Spring River Drive. They are formerly from Oak Park. John, 13, is an eighth grade student at Berkshire School. Mr. Powers attended the University of Toledo and is a chemical engineer for the Burroughs Corp. He enjoys a round of golf for relaxation while Mrs. Powers prefers sewing.

MR. AND MRS. Jim Johnston, new residents at 30286 Spring River Drive, have returned to Michigan. They returned six months ago from Chicago and were formerly from Royal Oak. Helping their parents get settled are Annette, 10, and Tom, 7.

Mr. Johnston is market sales manager for the Essex Wire Corp. and a graduate of Wayne State University.

The Johnstons, with Annette and Tom, spent last week visiting in Chicago with Mrs. Johnston's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Baskin, former residents of Bloomfield Hills.

MR. AND MRS. JIM Johnston, new residents at 30286 Spring River Drive, have returned to Michigan. They returned six months ago from Chicago but were formerly from Royal Oak. Helping their parents get settled are Annette, 10 and Tom, 7.
