

Sailsmanship On Orchard Lake

Mrs. Norman B. Weston Mrs. Henry R. Nolte, Jr.

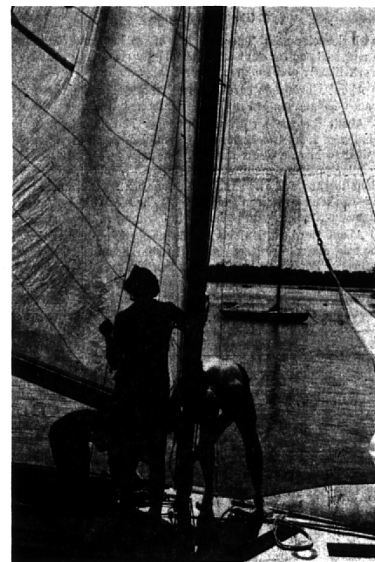

Eccentric Photos by Bill Thom

Instructor Jim Young

Familiar Scene Dockside

Rigging to Win

Suburban Scene

By LAURENA PRINGLE
Special Writer

Last Friday's meeting of the women-sailors at Orchard Lake was notable not only because it was absolutely ideal for sailing but for the fact that not one of the eight boats in the race tipped over, in the fresh breeze that gave a little chop to the water.

The second and third place boats were disqualified however for downing the buoy flag at the turn and that's bad sailsmanship on any man's lake.

Only major upheavals of nature keep the Orchard Lake women-sailors off the lake at meeting time on Tuesdays and on Fridays of each week.

Jim Young, a former math teacher at Cranbrook who reminds us of "Mr. Novak" (and that ain't bad even though we hated math in school) is the sailing instructor. The group has had two new challenges—one a new course on account of the low water level and the other a series of informal crew classes to improve rigging and sail-handling techniques. The morning hours give the sailors opportunity to stay on for lunch and hash over the events of the morning.

Mrs. Mark Jung is chairman and has a right seaworthy crew to help with "other business" such as luncheons, publicity and prizes. The members are Mrs. George Miller, Mrs. Basil Brown, Mrs. Richard Sharpe, Mrs. Nicholas Rostello, Mrs. Kenneth Cunningham, Mrs. John Ufner, Mrs. John H. Sutton and Mrs. Calvert Thomas.

Gathering of the Clan

We have a feeling that even though the Don Ahrens family has been busy this summer here and around their summer quarters at Harbor Point, the time has still dragged a bit.

Sister Anne Duchesne (Luise Ahrens) is due in September on her first visit home since entering the Maryknoll Mission Sisters four years ago.

Mrs. Ahrens has planned two sponsor parties for her daughter, one on Sept. 2 and another on Sept. 3, both at the Bloomfield Hills Country Club.

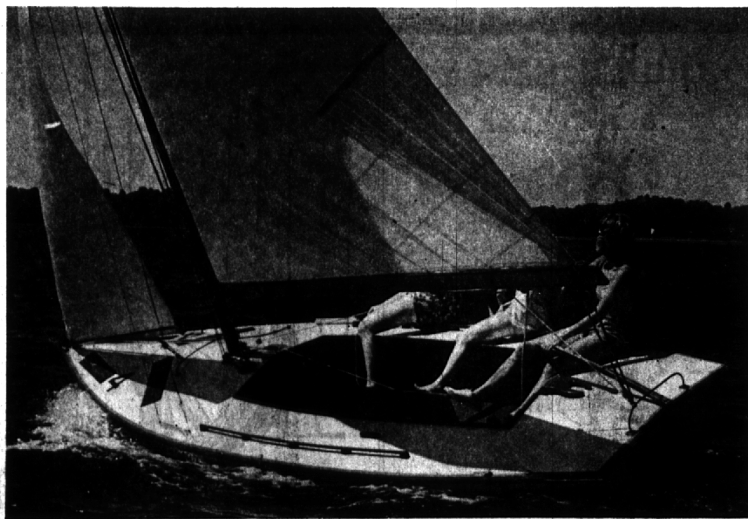

And Sr. Anne's sister, Mrs. R. J. Byrnes, will give one on Sept. 10. Brother Jeffrey and his family of Milwaukee will join the family on Labor Day week-end for a rousing barbecue.

Sister will appear at Holy Name Church on Sept. 6 and show pictures of the work of the Maryknoll Missions after which the Altar Society will serve refreshments.

People Are Talking—

About the step-up in fun around the Robert W. Hague house on Manor Rd., since tiny Timothy Carl came to live with his adopted family, Timothy was born in April and adopted by the Hagues in July. There are two other Hague children enchanted with the event, Vicki, 12, and Jon, 5.

About making up groups to go into Detroit Friday to see Ruth Joyce's new custom collection. Designer Joyce has a wide circle of patrons in the Birmingham-Bloomfield area that she has dressed since going into business several years ago. Murmurs seeping out of the collection's press preview a week ago intimated that 1964-65 Joyce clothes are "better than ever." There are two major silhouettes: One, semi-fitted through the body and exploding into fullness in the area of the knees; second, slim and fitted with a full panel insert in the skirt front. Skirt lengths stay about the same, the let-out easy lines making things happier for the sheath-skirted wearers. Sleeves are important but still rated 50-50 (See SUB SCENE, 2-C)

Ginny Rumely, Cindy Sutton and Janet Jung riding high