Alhambra's Feast at Hawaiian Luau

By MARION CASKEY
MA 4-6860

The Birmingham Alhambra and their guests sat on the ground island-style and sipped on roast pig and lamb at the luau hosted by their grand comrade Andrew Dynda last Saturday.

While a Hawaiian combo roamed the grounds of the Dyndas' Old Colony Road home, guests in island dress hulaed and limboed. The party, a benefit for retarded children, drew about 200 people.

Neighbors Bill Wakeman, Tommy Tyghem and young Chuck Dynda had festooned fishnets and strategically spotted anchors, conch shells and tikis to heighten the Hawaiian atmosphere.

OVER ON 13 Mile Road in Wood Creek, Jim and Helen O'Brien assembled the members of Jim's family for an annual get-together Sunday.

Jim is the oldest of eight children and brothers and sisters came from various parts of Michigan and Ohio to compare how offspring had grown and such.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Fisher of Wellington road entertained fellow members of the Waterloo Hunt Club of Jackson at a potluck picnic Saturday afternoon.

DOWN 13 MILE Road at Telegraph, Gerry and Sue Lepine proved that a lot can be said in praise of the impromptu party.

Last Friday night about 7:30 a group of friends in a teen-age band suggested getting a group together at Lepine's pool. The girls began phoning, the phoning snow-balled, and by 10 o'clock 150 youngsters were enjoying the music of "The Castaways."

Parents Dorothy and Tom Lepine reported excellent behavior on everyone's part and the party was acclaimed an unqualified success. Even the neighbors enjoyed the music.

Explorers Post 1011 is off for five days of camping at The Pinery Provincial Park. Advisor Jack Holmes, neighborhood scout commissioner Bill White and district scout commissioner Paul Nelson accompanied the 12 participating boys.

SUNDAY, AUG. 2, following the Saturday wedding of her daughter, Mrs. Jack DiGiovanni of Roberts Drive gave a delightful patio party to honor her out-of-town guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene McCabe of Belle Glade, Fla., Robert and Richard Burns of McAllen, Tex., the Fudenna family of Irvington, Calif., Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shonfelder and Mr. and Mrs. Peter Kelly of Salinas, Calif., visited with about 30 local friends and relatives at the buffet supper.

THE WIN HINMANS have just returned from a three-week cruise of Georgian Bay and the North Channel on their boat, the Kitty Ann III.

The Haskell Wrights of Telegraph Road joined them at Little Current, Manitowish Island with Hinman's Boy Scout son, David, who had been at the Scout Jamboree.

The Fred MacNabbs of Appletree Lane were "down home" in Franklin, O., for a week visiting Mary Kaye's mother. While in Franklin, MacNabbs, with young Thom and Annie, Mary Kaye took 13-year-old Kathy to see Miami University at Oxford and to Cincinnati to shop for school clothes.

NEXT DOOR neighbors, the Harold Geigers, were also in Ohio, but in Cleveland visiting former Detroit friends and in Athens, where son Gregg's future alma mater, Ohio U., was having parents' week. Former Franklinites, Tim Specht, will also be entering Ohio U. this fall.

A week of counseling at U of M was provided for J. D. Bartleson of 14 Mile Road this week. As future Student Council pres-

THE JOYS of farming have captivated Sunny and David Kelter, Mark McGee and Peggy, Nancy and Brad Ginn. Day camping at Upland Hills Farm, they've been harvesting on a hay wagon, threshing grain and bottle feeding baby animals. "How are you going to get them back to Paree, after they've seen the Farm?"

A GIRL who has had exposure in depth to France this summer is 17-year-old Joy Young. Traveling with the Roger Cretes of Woodside drive, Joy has spent the past six weeks in France, and will be journeying on to Switzerland, Italy and Spain before returning Sept. 2.

She wrote home that taking along her guitar was a stroke of genius. Besides whiling away lonely hours, the music crosses many language barriers.

The John Dewars of Inkster Road headquartered their family of six on the shores of Osego Lake for the past two weeks in their brand new, giant-size tent. From there they took side trips around the Upper and Lower peninsulas.

JIM MCKINNEY, David Beier, Tom Hampton and David McAlpine are spending two weeks at Thunderbird camp near Baldwin. It's an athletic conditioning camp, and after working out all day, the boys are allowed to watch TV in the evening.

Of local interest was the water ballet show given by the teenagers of the Farmington Swimming Club Tuesday night. Franklin's Kay Heidemann had the feminine lead and Cecily Kerr, Ann Beier, Janice Caskey and Beth Kerr were members of the chorus. Greg Geiger completed Franklin's representation with a diving exhibition.

HOUSEGUESTS have been buying the Paul Rickers of Captains lane this month. First Paul's mother and Aunt visited from Ft. Lauderdale.

The two little old ladies jetted to Boston, then here, and back to Florida again. Then came Lannie's mother, Mrs. Ray F. Taylor, from Orlando. She will be spending about two weeks in Franklin.
