The vanguard of Arnie's Army moves on Birmingham next week. And in case you aren't a golf bug (and don't worry, it had to be explained to us, too), Arnie's Army is made up of the Arnold Palmer fans from Palmer's native village of Latrobe, Pa.

Palmer, among others, will be here for the Carling World Open that opens at Oakland Hills CC next week.

The vanguard is made up of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ferguson and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Moran who will be the guests of Mrs. Ferguson's sister, and brother-in-law, the James Gunns.

The tournament will also afford the James Riddells and their daughter, Sandy, an opportunity to revisit the Birmingham and Bloomfield area where they lived for quite some time. The Riddell trio arrive today (Thursday) to stay with the Stuart W. Frankfords. They now live in Beverly Hills, Calif.

There will be a very small and informal dinner at the Frankford home on Sunday for the visitors and a bang-up "tee-time" cocktail do next Wednesday.

Tournaments seem to be synonymous with reunions hereabouts, for like the Riddells, Dr. and Mrs. George R. Norton, who moved from here in 1939 and haven't been back since 1951, are making the Carling matches an excuse to come to visit Mr. and Mrs. Chester A. Kahn. In 1951 their "excuse" was the National Open.

Plans for a cook-out are in the making but nothing for sure until after Dr. Norton gets here. According to Mrs. Kahn the doctor is a master of the barbecue and takes over . . . and from all we hear the results are so divine everyone is happy he does.

Love Finds Way

A romance that began in Rome traveled halfway around the world to Christ Church Cranbrook for the wedding: Maria D'Agostino and Richard T. Booth were married there Friday.

Richard and his bride met in the Eternal City when Richard was there on foreign service. Later his career turned him back to this hemisphere and the vice consulship in Monterey, Mexico. His blond fiancée followed later.

Richard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce G. Booth. Mr. Booth is a former mayor of Birmingham. Mrs. Eugene Moore of Birmingham was the bride's only attendant. Dr. Gerald Davies came from Ann Arbor to be the best man and the bride's uncle, Dr. Etore De Gerolami, and his wife came from Washington, D. C., the doctor to give the bride away.

Also here for the wedding was the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Booth Mitchell (Peggy) who now makes her home in Honolulu.

Can't Keep Away

Former Birmingham residents, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Peterson, have returned to their home in San Francisco, after a short visit with family and friends in Birmingham.

Before coming to the area they flew from California to New York and spent two days at Lake Placid at the White Face Inn, and then two days touring the New England States. They spent one day at the Fair in New York and scored a definite coup by snagging tickets for "Hello Dolly."

Upon arriving in Birmingham they divided their time between the homes of Mr. Peterson's mother, Mrs. Elwin Peterson, and his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. John Rosso.

People Are Talking

About the beautiful new house that Walter and Jo-Ann Fisher have built up at Harbor Point. Nearby are Walt's sister and brother-in-law, the Bernie Costellos.

About Joe Wenzler who being one of eight children could, and did, recruit a sister who could fit exactly into Carolyn Kroha's bridesmaid dress (when Carol fell ill) and his and Pat Heatherson's wedding went off on schedule Aug. 8. Carol is in the size 7-8 group, too.

BCC Foursomes Tee Off For Entertaining Evening

There's always something popping at Birmingham Country Club.

It can be amateur theatricals (which are definitely NOT amateurish). It can be nationality sprees such as fiestas and luau.

Or it can be "Twilight Mixed Golf" evenings—which are heading toward first place on the popularity list. Their programs are that varied that they appeal to a multitude of tastes and age brackets.

Take last Friday's rendezvous with fun. The golfers were out early shielding their eyes against the sun but completely happy about its appearance after two days of depressing cloudiness.

After everyone who wished had a turn at the course they filed into the clubhouse and went through the seafood buffet. Then there was a fashion show of togs from the club's pro shop with a fine array of mad hats (as illustrated).

And then there was dancing but if the usual procedure held, the dancers sooner or later finished up the evening gathered around the piano in the comfortable cocktail lounge, singing all the old songs and a few of the new.

Neighborhood Notes From Peggy

MRS. J. F. HAMILTON
MT 6-2532

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Handley, 1594 Penitence, depart Saturday for Cincinnati where they board the Delta Queen for an excursion down the Ohio river. While their parents are traveling on the stern-wheeler to Kentucky Lake, Ky., Sue will visit her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Brunggraver, Homewood, Ill., and James will stay with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Brunggraver, Birmingham.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph LaFave, 1566 Haynes, are vacationing in northern Michigan. They are spending a week at Glen Lake, Belleair, Mich. and a week at Caberfas Lodge, Cadillac.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald G. Klein and family, 1762 Bowers, spent a week at Long Lake, Alpena at the beginning of the cold spell and had to send out an S. O. S. for ski parkas and slacks.

MR. AND MRS. Harold C. Carter and family, 1888 Sheffield, left Sunday for Manaroneck, N. Y., their headquarters for a week while Mr. Carter plays in a golf tournament at Wings-Fox Golf Club and the rest of the family commute to the World's Fair. The following week they go to Muncie, Ind. to visit Mr. Carter's mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Worden.

Joseph Jannetta, Montville, N. J., and Mr. and Mrs. Dominic Di Fiori, Boonton, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. Erling Oyen, 1690 Mansfield, plan to go to their cabin in the Alleghany Mrs. Foster County, Pa., the last of August for a few days, pick up son Richard, who has been there all summer, and go to the World's Fair.

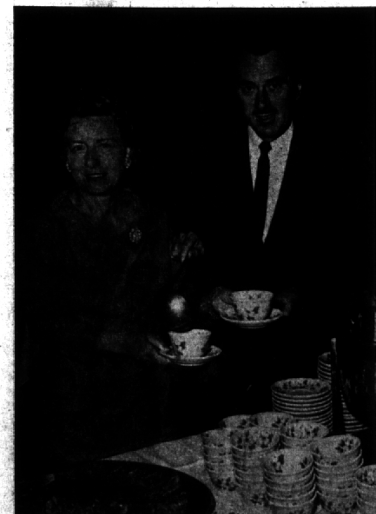

LINDA OYEN, home from two weeks' stay at Girl Scout camp, hardly had time to unpack and pack again to go to Lake Wilcox, Midland, Mich., where she is swimming and skiing with her aunt and uncle this week.

In Linda's unit at Camp Narrin were four other girls from Derby School Cadet Scout troop: Cathy Marine, Karen Stetten, Judy Harrison and Colette Gurley. Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Murray and family, 1599 Bowers, are home from a three week vacation aboard their 30 ft. ketch. They sailed on Lake Huron up the Canadian coast, docking at Port Sanilac, Goderich, Kincardine, Southampton, and Red Bay.

Cruising in Georgian Bay, they stopped at Tobermory, Big Tub and Club Island. The log shows smooth sailing all the way except for one day of fog with visibility zero.

Have You Met

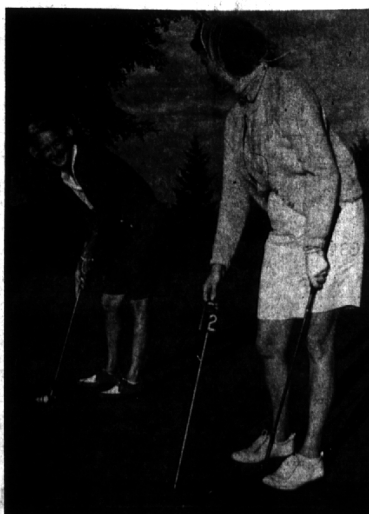

The Roy H. Gilberts, former Bostonians, who are at home at 1709 Haynes? Mr. Gilbert is a financial analyst at Ford Motor Co. Their oldest is Jill, 4, and the second is Cathy, 2.
