

New Neighbors Feted at Barbecue

By MARION CASKEY
MA 8-6869

Guests wore tags which read "Love Thy Neighbor" at the indoor barbecue given by Donna and Richard Barnett Aug. 11. Neighbors were invited to meet Kenny and Marvel Singer up on Woodlows. Donna had prepared a sumptuous dinner to be enjoyed on the patio, but the showers and cold breezes altered the plans and guests exchanged views on crab-grass indoors.

HERE FOR a week with the Barnetts is Donna's sister, Mrs. Arthur Graham from Palo Alto, accompanied nine-year-old Steven Barnett from California. Steven's trip home was rather lame compared to his flight out a month ago when he traveled on the same plane with the whole Detroit Tiger team.

HOUSE GUESTS of Abe and Joyce Eustein and Mr. and Mrs. J. Shaffer were feted at a barbecue Saturday night at the Epworth Woodlows home. The Shaffers were visiting here from Boston.

Carl and Pris Rasmussen and their children of Herkeshire have just returned from Milwaukee where they spent a week with relatives. They had a lake-type vacation the first two weeks of August at Wallon Lake where they were cottage shopping.

OTHER WALLON Lake vacationers were the Richard Cud-dahys of Captains lane. They purchased a cottage up their last fall and spent this summer break in it. They also acquired a new boat and became water-skiing enthusiasts.

Daughter Ann's trip to New York this week for Summer School of Catholic Action with Marian High School brought them back to Franklin for packing.

SURELY THE title of most avid yachtsman in Franklin must go to Ralph Holderness. He brought his 45-foot cabin cruiser from Tampa, Fla., to St. Clair Shores entirely by water.

With the captain and his wife from Florida and Bob's nephew, Tom Walsh of Lincoln Park, they journeyed through the inner coastal waterways to New Orleans, up the Mississippi river, through the Illinois and Des Plaines river and canal to Lake Michigan at Chicago and around the Great Lakes.

Shirley Holderness and the daughters joined them at Chicago. In Montague, Mich., mechanical difficulties beset them and they had to drive home.

When repairs were made they returned to complete the trip. About 1,600 miles were logged and the move took nearly eight weeks.

THE ROBERT Hampson home is in a sort of uproar, to put it mildly. In the midst of major remodeling, son Chris flew home from six weeks at Lost Trails camp in Sula, Mont., the two girls returned from a month in Virginia, Bob's niece Betsy arrived to visit for a week and Bob left Sunday for Europe.

Twenty-year-old Betsy, a Californian, was in New York for an A.F.S. send-off party for departing exchange students and paused a week in Franklin on her way home.

LAST WEEK'S chilly temperatures were frowned on by several families who chose this time to go north vacationing.

The George Ghazals of Colony Hill road were at Blue Mountain Lodge in the Adirondacks for 10 days.

Chat and Nancy Davis of Inlster Road bundled up for a tour of Northern Mich.

Gerry and Barbara Haymes of 14 Mile Road spent the week journeying around up north after a trip to Howe, Ind., to enroll son Dane at Howe Military Academy.

The Cal Brown family of Wallington Road returned a week ago from Burt Lake where they had shared a cottage with Jean's sister's family.

The Frits Geils of Riverwood drive loafed at a cottage on Grand Traverse Bay with their three offspring assembled. Since this was their first chance for togetherness in quite some time, they didn't mind the cold temps.

THE RAY Marzes of Appletree Lane combined a visit to Ray's brother on Long Island with a trip to the fair. Son Dick was at Boy Scout camp at Howell but Gary and Nancy went with them.

Margaret and Bill Dickey of McKinney drive wanted to introduce their two youngsters to Americans so they took them to Washington, Gettysburg, Williamsburg and a Charlottesville. Then they motored down the Blue Ridge parkway to the Smokies and Blowing Rock, N. C.

SEPT. 19 BRIDE Janet Faye was honored at miscellaneous showers by Mrs. Jack Roberts of Cheviot Hills Drive last Friday night. Guests were Franklin friends of the future Mrs. James Peters.

Saturday evening Nita Hard put their sail boat to good use at a backyard party they had for the Cranbrook Institute of Science staff and their families. Placed with sail hoisted among the apple trees, the craft served as a bar-one side for adults and one for small fry.

THE DORCHESTER Hills fall dinner dance was the main topic of conversation at the neighborhood potluck hosted by the Frank Panagos of Bloomington court last Saturday night.

After enjoying the ladies' culinary specialties, guests drifted inside to discuss plans for the money-raising project to be given at Pine Knob Oct. 10. New gate posts and lights have depleted the subdivision treasury.

NEW-TO Franklin are Bill and

Navy Base To Be Home For Joneses

At a candlelight ceremony Saturday evening Judith Katherine Haack, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Haack of Franklin, became the bride of Robert Earl Jones of Royal Oak, in Franklin Community Church.

The bride, gowned in white silk organza appliqued with rose medallions, was attended by Mrs. Arnold W. Smith, Mrs. Crigh-ton W. Newman and Mrs. Robert T. Brown, Jr.

Elmer C. Haack was best man and seating the guests were John R. Haack and Arnold W. Smith.

Following the reception the couple left by motor for Wash-ington, D. C. They will move on to Norfolk, Va., where the bride-groom is stationed with the United States Navy. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl B. Jones of Royal Oak.

Dolores Kempp on Romey. They have two children, Pam 19, is a voice major beginning her sophomore year at Northwestern university.

Bill Jr., 15, will be entering the ninth grade at Groves. The Kempps moved here from the 6 Mile Road area in northwest Detroit.

Another mother consoled: "Well, you're lucky. When I was unpacking my boy's suitcase, I found all the letters I had written to him tucked inside, unopened."

ONE FRANKLIN mother was complaining about her camping sons' scanty correspondence of two post cards.
