Maunder's Clan Gather For Reunion at Cape Cod

By ELIZABETH VAN LOAN MI 7-2324

It's time again for the biennial get-together of the Maunder's clan. Every two years the four children of the late Dr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Maunder's of Maple Road gather their families together from Missouri, Mich., and Connecticut and converge on a prearranged vacation spot.

This year Wellfleet on Cape Cod was chosen and four cottages reserved for the first week in August.

From Wilton, Conn., came Virginia Maunder (Mrs. Endres Campbell), her husband and four children. Their daughter, Lucy Ann, a junior at Connecticut College in Storrs, Conn., is the oldest of the flock of cousins.

Dr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Maunder and their son, Bill, arrived from Seaside, Mo. Brothers Donald of Lamp Post Lane and James of Idlewild Road, with their wives and six children completed the roster.

WHEN THE week of catching up on family news was over, the James Maunder's left for Peacham, Vt., and a week's visit with Mrs. Maunder's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Wallace.

Charles K. Wallace, Jr. of Wilmington, Del., was also visiting his parents with his wife and two sons, so the Maunder's children had a chance to renew acquaintance with still another set of cousins.

The senior Mrs. Wallace is the sister of Hal G. Trump of Bloomfield Hills.

She and her husband were New Jersey residents until his retirement from the staff of Princeton University in 1960 when they moved to Vermont and a white clapboard house dating from 1810. The Wallaces, who are members of the American Chamber Music Players, and who built a harnesford last winter, were the subject of a recent column in the Christian Science Monitor.

The W. Fred Nibelinkas of Shore Hill Road also returned last weekend from a week's stay in Cadillac.

YOU LEARN something every day. California to us was always that state on the west coast but from Mrs. Casey K. Ambrose of Inkster Road we learned there is also a town by that name in Pennsylvania. In fact, it's her old hometown, and that's where she, they stayed with relatives, Mr. her husband and their six children were last week.

and Mrs. Edwin Davis, actually in nearby Elco but visited with aunts and uncles in California. Both communities are in the Pittsburgh area.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Coolidge and their three children of Haven Road returned Saturday from a two-week tour of the Georgian Bay area and Upper Peninsula.

MR. AND MRS. RICHARD Piersol and David of Darramoor Road are back from a 10-day visit with relatives in Illinois and Iowa.

They spent a week end with his parents, the George Piersols of Kankakee, then all went on to a reunion in Davenport with David's great-grandmother, Mrs. Winnie Johnson, and relatives from Downey, Calif., the Robert Kiskadens.

In Kansas

Following a week's honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Boulton are making their home in Lawrence, Kan., where Mr. Boulton is teaching in the University of Kansas school of music. He is the son of Mrs. Wenonah B. Boulton of Birmingham and Berthoud C. Boulton of St. Louis. The bride is the former Carole D. Carstens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Carstens of Brownsville, Texas. They were married here in Christ Church Cranbrook, Aug. 1.

Party List Ends for Miss Smith

The series of pre-nuptial parties for Katherine M. Smith and William R. Bell who will be married Aug. 22, ended Saturday with the spinster dinner given by Mrs. William J. Bell and her daughter, Judy.

The bachelor party was held at the same time at the home of the best man, John E. Bell. Miss Smith's showers given with a kitchen shower started by Mrs. John P. Denison at Orchard Lake Country Club, July 11. There was a bathroom shower given by Mrs. John Bell July 24 and a round-the-clock shower at Mrs. Louis A. Bauer whose co-hostess was her daughter, Anne. Mrs. Harry Crawford was hostess at a linen shower Aug. 13 at Red Run, Mrs. Crawford is from Royal Oak. The wedding will take place in Our Lady Queen of Martyrs Church of Birmingham.
