

Students End Training In Gardening Therapy

The Teaching Center for Horticultural Therapy, Pontiac State Hospital, recently terminated its eight week cycle of formal instruction for four college students.

They were sponsored in their study by several branches of National Farm and Garden in the area. A luncheon was given at the Village Woman's Club to honor the event, certificates were also awarded.

During the interim of study, the college students worked with the patients in their outdoor gardens and studied their assignments relating to plant culture. The psychology of working with others was stressed.

THIS INSTRUCTION equips the enrollee with the ability to assist community volunteers in their service assignments whether it be working with the retarded or mentally or physically ill. The college students are preparing to be clinical technicians in occupational therapy and psychology.

The honored guests for the occasion were Dr. D. W. Martin, medical superintendent, Pontiac State Hospital; Mrs. Clarence Maguire, state president of the Michigan Division; Mrs. Marvin Katke, national recording secretary of National Farm and Garden; Sam Bridges,

First Clock Made For Egyptian King

The first clock that we know anything about was the shadow clock built for King Thutmoseis of Egypt about 1600 B.C.

Made of three pieces of wood, this clock told time by measuring the length of a shadow thrown by the sun. Mechanical clocks were not invented until about 1300, 200 years before the discovery of America.

The students were Karen Vogel, Troy; Marsha Page, Walled Lake; Tom Bollman, Birmingham; and Henry Patronski, Buffalo, N.Y.

A quiet court setting — near the Birmingham Athletic Club, away from traffic yet convenient to shops and transportation. The house is a delight with an unusual and inviting slate-floored Family Room boasting a floor to ceiling brick fireplace with barbecue. Three ample Bedrooms, 2 1/2 Baths, superb Kitchen with built-ins, large screened porch, abundant closets and storage areas. Attractively decorated (carpets and drapery included).
$37,900

An Allen Dow contemporary on a superb three acre site in Bloomfield Hills. Near Cranbrook school. Uniquely and dramatically centered around a wide curved stairway that leads down to the Living Room and up to three Bedrooms (Master suite with dressing room) and two Baths, Family Room, Dining Room and Kitchen, up again to a fourth Bedroom and Bath. On the lower level are maid's quarters and bath. A separate two-room playhouse could become a cabana for future pool.

Perfection! Beautifully landscaped site; superior construction; luxury detailing; conveniently close to schools and shops. Quad-level in plan—three Bedrooms, 2 Baths up, Bedroom and Bath down. A huge Studio Room could well become a dormitory. Living Room and Dining Room are exceptionally large, the completely equipped kitchen is a delight. Add to this a paneled Family Room, covered Patio, central air-conditioning, garage openers, etc., etc. You'll understand our enthusiasm when you see it.

Better than new — three years old and happily established. A Storybook garden and patio, fenced and landscaped for privacy. A tri-level plan, attractively decorated and superbly maintained with four Bedrooms (Master with dressing room), three up and one down, 2 1/2 Baths, built-ins in the well-planned Kitchen include a barbecue. An inviting, paneled Family Room with fireplace, opens to the Patio. Birmingham schools. Water, sewer.
