International Farmers

State Fair to Be Opened With Parade

A colorful Grand Opening Parade plus ribbon-cutting by Gov. George Romney and the 116th Michigan State Fair will start on its way Friday night to what shapes up as the biggest State Fair ever.

State Fair officials expect, for the third straight year, more than a million visitors to the 10-day, 11-night extravaganza of entertainment, agricultural and livestock exhibits, including horse shows, displays of the homemaker's arts and youth and children's activities. The State Fair will run through Labor Day, Sept. 7.

GOVERNOR Romney will start the State Fair on its way officially at 6 p.m. Friday by cutting a ribbon at the Woodward entrance near State Fair Avenue.

At 8 p.m., the Grand Opening Parade will form at Jefferson and go north on Woodward to Vernor in downtown Detroit.

More than 100 units will take part in the march, which will stretch about three miles. There'll be band music, colorful drill teams, high-stepping horses and galaxy decorated floats. The parade annually has attracted more than 100,000 spectators.

Army Engineer Corp Name Study Chief

The U. S. Lake Survey has announced the appointment of Ira M. Korkis of Farmington, as chief of its special studies section, hydraulics and hydrology branch.

The Lake Survey Special Studies Section conducts research-type investigations, the findings of which are applied to the solution of hydraulic and hydrologic problems encountered in performing the mission of the Lake Survey.

Special emphasis is currently being directed to the solution of engineering problems related to the development and utilization of the water resources of the Great Lakes system.
