

Mrs. Engel and Guest Visit Mexico

By GLORIA JESSUP
MA 6-3257

Mrs. Elwood F. Engel of Franklin Road and her house guest, Kim Obata of Japan, have returned to Bloomfield Hills after spending the last seven weeks in Mexico.

The majority of their time away was spent in Saltillo, Coahuila, attending one of the five universities in this capital town which is 300 years old. Mrs. Engel studied Spanish and did some silver work during the short time away.

The two women stayed in the large home of Mr. and Mrs. Barreda in the city. At first they were at the hotel in the country where most Americans stayed but found that in town where approximately 20 other students were housed they learned more about the country, its customs and its people.

Mrs. Engel said that Saltillo has a most unusual traffic light system, and I urged her to tell The Eccentric about this in view of the fact that both Mrs. Engel and I make at least one daily trip across the Most Dangerous Crossroad in Michigan—MAPLE and TELEGRAPH.

have returned home after spending three weeks touring Europe. They were accompanied by their children, Margaret and Shul.

The foursome rented a car and toured England and Central Europe. They journeyed through Belgium, France, Austria, Germany, Luxembourg, and Lichtenstein.

They returned home from their trip to Europe with many delightful memories and grateful feelings for the perfect weather they encountered, while here at home we were either sweating or complaining about the sudden GOLD spell.

The Grossenbachers, including Mack, 5, and Linda, 7, have only been residents of Michigan for the past five months. They are former residents of Glendale, Mo.

In an effort to learn more about the state where they now live they packed the family into the car and began their tour around beautiful Lake Charlevoix, a day on Mackinac Island and an evening at the Grand Hotel, stops at our outstanding ski resorts, Boyne Highlands, Boyne Mountain and Nuba Knob for a peek at the ski facilities and after three days at Walloon Lake the family returned home.

NEVER LET it be said that in Bloomfield Hills it is hard to get to know your neighbor. This just is not true when you have residents like Mrs. Thomas Fitzpatrick in your neighborhood.

Mrs. Fitzpatrick of Shellmar Lane, Peabody Orchards, was hostess at a coffee recently to introduce four of her new neighbors.

They were Mrs. Earl Jackson, Mrs. William F. Pancratz, Mrs. Robert Stuart and Mrs. George L. Sukus.

HI, JULIE MARIE! Welcome to Still Meadow, Bloomfield Hills, and last but by no means least, You Family of Five. Excluding of course your Ma and Pa, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Riemenschneider. Julie, born Aug. 8, to the Paul Riemenschneider of the Burning Tree Drive, rounded out the family to make three boys and three girls.

Welcoming Julie home were Kurt, Sally, David, Tom and Susan. And, for any of you former Birminghamites, and also former Baldwin High School students who are still around, Mrs. Paul Riemenschneider is the former Sally Carey.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Jackson of 3773 Shellmar Lane, Bloomfield Hills, moved into Peabody Orchards on June 29 from Parkside in Detroit. They have two children, Michael, 13, and Jill, 12. Mr. Jackson is a graduate of North Carolina State and is owner of the Magic Servant Products Co. Mrs. Jackson attended College of St. Teresa in Minnesota.

Outside colleges of the Jacksons, which often are business trips when it concerns Mr. Jackson include flying and, in the case of Mrs. Jackson, she is an avid church worker.

THE NEW residents at 3789 Shellmar Lane are Mr. and Mrs. George L. Sukus formerly of Redford. They moved into their new home on June 6 with Charles, 21, George, 19, Deborah, 13, David, 11, and Rebecca, 2.

Mr. Sukus is associated with Cadillac Motor Co., attended Stanford University in California, and is a graduate of Cleveland College. He enjoys painting and working with mosaic tiles.

Mr. and Mrs. Pancratz and their three children have recently returned from a week's vacation in Dallas, Tex.
