

Stanley-McGill Rite Read Saturday Evening

An evening ceremony at First Presbyterian Church Saturday united Linda LaVelle Stanley and James B. McGill, Jr., in marriage.

The bride selected a gown of white satin-peau trimmed with Alencon lace. She carried white feathered carnations and stephanotis.

Sandie Stanley was her sister's maid of honor and Janet McGill and Nancy Corey were bridesmaids. They were attired in aqua and carried baskets of daisies.

William Mordaunt was best man.

Following their reception in the church parlor Mr. and Mrs. McGill left for Northern Michigan. The bride is the daughter

Breakfast at Club Follows Ceremony

A wedding breakfast at the Groose Point Yacht Club followed the morning wedding of Judith Ann Sattler to James Hannon Carney in St. Paul's Church on the Lakeshore Aug. 29.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Herman P. Sattler of Groose Point and Mr. and Mrs. James C. Carney of Franklin Road, Bloomfield Hills.

The bride, who was escorted by her father, chose a gown designed by Christos of Galina. It was a silk peau de sole with a fitted empire bodice and had an overblouse of imported Alencon lace lavishly beaded with jeweled clusters of crystals and seed pearls. The bell shaped skirt had a deep border of matching lace and her chapel length train fell softly into a wide circular sweep.

A full-length Alencon lace mantilla completed the outfit. She carried a French bouquet of white roses.

HER MAID OF HONOR was Jane McCarthy of New York City. She wore a shell pink floor-length dress fashioned on empire lines. Her open crown, wide brim hat was in matching shell pink trim with natural pink roses. She carried a small French bouquet of pink roses.

The bridesmaids' gowns were identical to that of the maid of honor. They included Letitia Hewes, the bride's cousin, of Louisville, Ky.; Mrs. John A. Upsher of Ann Arbor and Carol Roler of Groose Point.

The groom's best man was Paul Himelhof of Royal Oak. Ushers were Frank Schober of Berkeley; Phillip Ward of Warren; and Robert Christy of Cleveland, O.

Miss McCosh Carries Family Prayer Book

The marriage of Marian McCosh of Kalamazoo and Richard Sperling of Birmingham was solemnized Saturday in Kirk of the Hills.

The bride given in marriage by her father, Frederick I. McCosh of Southfield, wore a gown of Chantilly lace and a headpiece of silk petals. Her flowers were white roses and carnations arranged on a prayer book that had been carried by the bridegroom's mother and sister at their wedding.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Sperling. His sister, Mrs. William Bushway of Troy, was matron of honor and Sandra Storm of New York City was the bridesmaid. Both wore petal pink organza over taffeta and carried baskets of red roses and pink carnations.

Robert Sperling of Royal Oak was his brother's best man. Daniel McCosh and Mr. Bushway ushered.

An outdoor dinner-dance was held at Bowman's Farm Cupboard in Southfield.

New Umbrellas Are Decorative And Practical

The umbrella, once thought of as strictly a rain protector, is now a fashionable accessory. The new ones for 1964-65 by Polan Katz, America's largest umbrella maker, emphasize the short and demi-length handles with short ferrule ends.

There is also emphasis on the ladylike look and colors are keyed to match the going shades in hats, shoes and gloves: Sahara Camel, Coffee Cream, Royal Delight, Purple Punch, Spruce, Golden Fig, and Fireball.

The new "Discotheque" umbrellas are double-covered, solid on top and printed beneath.
