

Bridal Pair Head North to UP Resort

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Villiers Morse are on their wedding trip in the Upper Peninsula, staying at Phil DeGra's Resort. They left following their Saturday noon wedding at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church.

Mrs. Morse is the former Kay Suzanne Stiegler, daughter of Elwood Arthur Stiegler of Grosse Pointe Park and Mr. Morse is the son of Mrs. E. Nelson Kimball of Bloomfield Hills and the late William Henry Morse.

The bridal gown was Chantilly lace and a small crown held the bridal veil. The bride carried a bouquet of ivory roses and stephanotis mounted on a piece of lace from the wedding gown of the bridegroom's grandmother and centered with a white orchid.

Wearing willow green satin gowns and carrying yellow carnations, the attendants were Joan G. Baer as maid of honor, Vicki

J. Stiegler, Mrs. William S. Morse and Beverly G. Moots.

Alan Kentis of Bloomfield Hills was best man and the ushers Laird B. Stiegler, William S. Morse and John Kiefer.

The couple will return to the studies at Michigan State University.

Party Honors Joan Hanna

Honoring Joan Hanna, daughter of the V. Leonard Hannas of Suffield Road, Birmingham, Mrs. Richard Pearce, also of Suffield Road, entertained at a luncheon Tuesday in her home.

A graduate of Seaboard High School, Joan will leave Sept. 5 for Tarkio College, Tarkio, Mo.

Among guests at the going away party were Mrs. Hanna, Mrs. Lloyd H. Diehl, Jr., Mrs. Harold E. Clark, Mrs. William E. Shutt and daughter Sue; Mrs. E. L. Melton, Mrs. Jack E. Bolton, Joey Fauver, Gretchen Christi, Phyllis Collins and Joan Finneren.

Others included Jo Ann and Janet Fouracre, Rene Portnoy, Janet, Connie and Beth Hanna; Martha Russ, Sandy Miller and Louise Katcher.

Would You?

Will trouser suits be accepted as normal town as well as country wear in the near future? This is the question everybody is asking since the point was raised with so much insistence at the time of the Paris Collections.

Practically all the major (and minor) Paris houses show trouser suits of some kind or another; but it is Courreges who brings the whole question to a climax with his collection of trouser suits, and—what must be mentioned in the same breath—his almost tennis-short skirts. These clothes are so convincing, so elegant, that they have the strange power to make everything else in the Paris shows seem as old-fashioned as the crinoline.

Mrs. Goldwater Qualifies as Fashion Plate

If Mrs. Goldwater becomes America's First Lady, the United States will again have a very fashion-conscious woman in the White House.

The fashion trail blazed by Mrs. Kennedy is being quietly followed by Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Goldwater has all it takes to follow these fashionable First Ladies. She is extremely attractive, wears her hair in the smooth, off-the-brow manner favored by top pace-setters, the New York mannequins.

The attractive wife of the GOP candidate knows fashion from a professional standpoint; at one time she was employed as a fashion designer. Not a tall woman (she stood on a box for her first Press Conference), she has learned to make the most of her good figure by choosing clothes that do the best height-making job. One of her favorite fashion labels is Braniff.

Open Thursday and Friday 'til 9 p.m.

"The SHIFT" by YOUTHCRAFT

FROM THE AMERICANA COLLECTION, this justly-famous "Shift" flattens the tummy, shapes the derriere naturally, slims the hips. It's fashion's newest body make-up, skillfully applied. Look for the identifying striped gibbon of the whole Americana collection, starting at 5.95. "THE SHIFT" is so popular we have it in two versions; the regular girdle at 8.95 . . . this long-line panty

Bride and Mother Collaborate on Gown

Karin Ruth Kolm and her mother, Mrs. Adolph G. Kolm, designed and made the gown in which Karin was married Aug. 29 to Thomas Crowley Cloutier, son of Mrs. Ellery J. Cloutier of Birmingham, and the late Mr. Cloutier.

Mr. and Mrs. Kolm are residents of Ann Arbor.

MRS. THOMAS C. CLOUTIER

The wedding took place in St. Francis of Assisi Church in Ann Arbor. Karin's dress was a floor-length sheath gown of silk organza over tulle. It had a jacket of Alencon lace and a long train. Her veil was held by a pearl and crystal head crown and she carried white roses and fugi mums.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Paul Merio of Detroit and the bridesmaids were Susan Cloutier and Mary Burke. The best man was Stephen McGratty of Birmingham.

After a week's honeymoon in Wisconsin and Northern Michigan, the Cloutiers will be at home in Ann Arbor.

Alpha Omicron Pi

The north suburban alumnae chapter of Alpha Omicron Pi will meet 8:15 p.m. Tuesday, Sept. 8, at the Southfield home of Mrs. Charles Starr.

A short business meeting will be followed by guest speaker F.R. Wallaeger, program director of the Oakland Child Guidance Clinic, Inc. His topic for the evening will be "The Emotional Development of Children."
