

Berkshire Garden Club Plans First Fall Meeting

By ELEANOR NELSON

The women of the Berkshire Branch of the Women's National Farm and Garden Association will hold their first meeting of the fall at the home of Mrs. V. C. Wagner, 3865 W. Lincoln Drive, at 12:30 p.m., Tuesday.

A luncheon will be served and a special program has been arranged. Miss Esther Kuxhaus will demonstrate "Flower Vegetables."

Miss Kuxhaus, well known in her field, has a booth at the Michigan State Fair and has appeared on the TV "Living Show."

WHEN MR. AND MRS. Paul Meyer of Roanoke vacation with their four children they never worry about motel accommodations or where to stop for meals. Instead, they rent a house trailer and have all the comforts of home while seeing the country. This year they left home on Aug. 16 to spend two weeks in the east.

Their first destination was Boston where they visited with Mrs. Meyer's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Kin-ville. The two Meyer daughters stayed with their uncle and aunt while Mom and Dad and the two boys went on down to New York City to view the Fair for three days.

When the family got together again they went on to Cape Cod where they spent a week. The highlight of the entire trip was when Mr. and Mrs. Kinville adopted a little boy on the last day of the Meyers' visit.

FIVE YEARS ago a group of women who have played bridge together decided to have a "husbands night" and planned a steak cookout.

Last Sunday the group celebrated its fifth annual steak cookout night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Pelfer of Roanoke Drive. They gathered late in the afternoon for cocktails, ate succulent steaks and then the 30 couples rounded out the evening by jowling at Strike 'n' Spare.

It was also a wonderful way to greet new neighbors and two new couples were inducted into the group.

RACHEL WEAVER, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Weaver of South Cranbrook Road, returned home on Aug. 18 after spending several weeks of the summer in South American countries, where she traveled with the Michigan Youth Chorale.

While south of the border she stayed with a number of American families. Among the mementoes she brought home for her family were mohair ponchos, cashmere sweaters direct from the sheep in Chile and a beautiful aquamarine stone for her mother which will be made into a piece of jewelry.

Rachel was home only long enough to repack her suitcase when she left Aug. 23 for Ann Arbor where she will be a freshman at the University of Michigan.

PEOPLE LIVING in Westchester Village are doing a double take these days wondering if they're in the Orient when they see a sully drawn by a young man running down the street.

Pat and Pam Palmer of Mid-dlebury Lane and the McGuire youngsters have been providing "something different" for the small fry of the neighborhood by dressing up as Orientals and giving the kids a ride.

As a side line the enterprising Palmers and McGuires sold popcorn and lemonade.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bergeron of E. Dartmoor and their two children were another family who traveled East this summer. They returned home Aug. 24 after attending the National Amputee Golf Tournament at Wingfoot Country Club in White Plains, N. Y., and also spent several days at the Fair.

IT WAS "HELLO and goodbye" when Patti Keough daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Keough of S. Williamsbury Lane came home last June after her first year at Michigan State University.

She checked in at home base on June 13 and on the 14th of the month was headed west to Buena Vista, Colo., where she was a swimming instructor and camp counselor at the Round-Up Ranch.

Later in the summer, towards the end of July her two brothers, Bill and Chipper, arrived at Sky-Valley Camp, which is in the same area, for a month's stay. Mr. and Mrs. Keough left home on Aug. 15 and ended up in the same vicinity although their route was quite roundabout.

Upon leaving here they headed northward and drove across Canada until they could drop down to the Minneapolis area and thence downward to Denver, Aspen and other known spots of Colorado. While in Aspen they were joined by Mrs. Keough's folks, Mr. and Mrs. Stroble who arrived from California.

One of the unusual parts of their trip was when they rode the chair lift on the ski areas. Being a skiing family they might just take the notion to take a winter vacation and really enjoy the slopes.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN Wakeland of Bradford Drive returned home on Aug. 30 after spending a week in the East with their two daughters, Joanne and Connie.

They split forces once nearing their destination. Joanne visited with her roommate at school, Virginia Poole, whose folks have a summer home on the Chesapeake River while Connie stayed with former neighbors at West-mount, N. J.

While Connie was with Joan Dilley, Mr. and Mrs. Wakeland cruised the Chesapeake River with Mr. and Mrs. Dilley.

WITH THEIR family all going different directions at different times, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Hollifield of Chamberlain Drive felt it the ideal time and summer to take a vacation for themselves.

When their daughter Sue was at the Westminister Camp at Higgins Lake they went to Toronto, Can., and on up to the Georgian Bay area where they stayed at the Sands Resort.
