BLOOMFIELD WEST

Mansfield—Girl Who Came To Supper

By ELIZABETH VAN LOAN
MI 7-2324

Jayne Mansfield and her husband, Mickey Hargitay, were guests of honor last Thursday at a cocktail party given by Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Forrester, Jr., at Stouffer's Northland Inn.

Following the evening's performance of "Bus Stop" at Northland Playhouse, the blonde star, her Hungarian husband and the cast trekked north to Bloomfield for a midnight supper at the Forrester home on Hedgewood Drive.

BONNIE JEAN, John and Alfred Anker are back in school after a month-long trip around the United States they'll never forget. They visited all the traditional tourist places and had the additional excitement of spending a night under the roof of the San Francisco Hilton along with the Beatles.

They left Michigan at the beginning of August with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Anker of Middlebelt Road, and four-year-old sister Molly in a rented air-conditioned Dodge motor bus, a mode of travel they enthusiastically endorse.

Their first objective was the Southwest where they visited the pueblo country of New Mexico and spent two days on a friend's cattle ranch in Santa Fe and another two days at Grand Canyon.

DISNEYLAND and the Farmers Market in Los Angeles were on the agenda in California. In San Francisco the Ankers rode the cable cars, explored Chinatown and fought their way through the squealing Beatle-mad mob that surrounded and jammed the lobby of the Hilton.

Afterwards, they relaxed in the powerful grandeur of Muir Woods National Monument north of San Francisco, then headed for home by way of Salt Lake City, the Grand Tetons, Yellowstone and Mr. Rushmore.

In the Dakotas they visited the abandoned gold mines and were entertained by Deadwood city's old-time Western pageant especially when Father Anker was tapped to serve on the jury in the show.

THE FIRST art exhibit to be held at the West Bloomfield Township Library on Orchard Lake Road opened Monday and will run for 10 days.

Oils and water colors by Fred and Dorothy Simper of Spring Road are being shown.

MR. AND MRS. KENNETH Crumb of Balthasar Road had guests from Washington, D.C., for dinner on Sept. 6. They were Col. George M. Nally, head of presidential communications at the White House, and Mr. Jack Doyle, AT&T representative attached to the White House communications staff.

Col. McNally and Mr. Doyle were in Michigan in connection with President Johnson's speech in Cadillac Square on Labor Day.

RAYMOND THOMAS Hajjar, Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. Raymond Hajjar, was christened Sept. 6 at a candlelight ceremony witnessed by 60 guests in his parents' home on Kingsmill Drive.

The baptism was performed in accordance with Eastern Melkite rites by Monsignor Riashi of Our Lady of Redemption Church, Detroit.

The baby's godparents are Dr. Paul Dwaiby of Grosse Pointe and Mrs. Jesse Bistany of Detroit.

Out-of-town guests included Dr. Hajjar's brother, Ted, from Louisville, Ky., and cousin Louis Coury of Lebanon, an engineering student in Detroit.

THERE WAS a definite New England flavor to the gathering as friends got together for a clam bake Sept. 5 on the shores of Walnut Lake.

Enjoying lobster, clams and corn on the cob were the Mason Lindamoods, Norman Booths, Kenneth Crumba, Al Grigoyes, George Whiteheads, Bill Resticks, Chip Halburds, Max Rosses, Dr. and Mrs. John Caldwell, and Mrs. Robert Kreuz.

Guitarists Dick Kreuz and Linda Crumb entertained the group with songs and music.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN Quinn are just back from a restful few days in Williamsburg, Va., following a week end that was slightly on the hectic side.

They were in Midland Saturday day the wedding of Charis MacDonald to James Wain of Royal Oak at which their daughter, Susan, was maid of honor.

The next day they were off to Chambersburg, Pa., where Susan was installed at Penn Hall Junior College for the start of her freshman year.

Also involved last week end with getting a freshman off to college were the Vernon Nickels of Middlebelt Road who were guests of his brother and sister-in-law, the K. A. Nickels, in Dayton while they settled their son, Hugh, at Wittenberg College in nearby Springfield.

THE VERNONS' elder son, Ensign Vernon Edward Nickel, Jr., and his wife are here on a visit from Athens, Ga., where Edward graduated, second in his class, from the U. S. Navy Supply Corps School on Aug. 20.

The junior Mrs. Nickel is the daughter of the Robert Irwins who are next-door neighbors of the Nickels. The young couple will leave soon for a two years' assignment in Edzell, Scotland.

IT WAS a gay luncheon at Toynka's Country House last Friday as Mrs. Robert Jessup, Mrs. Robert La Chance, Mrs. William Carriek and Mrs. Harvey Hohlfeldt celebrated the birthday of Mrs. Harry Houck of Middleton Drive.

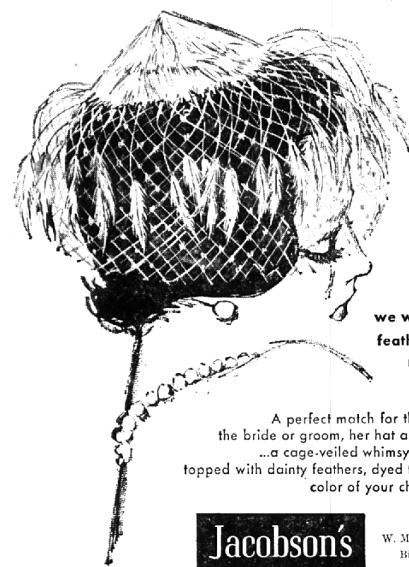

Also celebrating a birthday are Dr. and Mrs. Francis Martin of W. Newland Drive whose 10th child and seventh son, Daniel Edward, was born Sept. 7.

A GROUP of Mrs. Ethel Tob's piano pupils got together Sept. 4 at the home of Mrs. Leonard Melman of St. James Drive for a musical afternoon.

Louis and David Melman welcomed Kirk Taylor, Carol Shaw, Kim Groiner, David Roseberry, and Janet and Jim Nielsen.

The children played the piano for each other while their mothers and Mrs. Tob provided an appreciative audience.
