

Everybody Loves a Block Party

BICYCLE BRIGADE SET FOR CONTEST

"Togetherness" in many suburban communities is frequently spelled out in day-long-on-into-evening block parties which include all members of a family living within a certain area. Birmingham has embraced this type of fun with gusto, today's pictures typical of what goes on all around the town. About 20 families on Maryland Blvd., from South-lawn to Fourteen Mile, roped off the street over Labor day week end for their own private festivities.
