Seaholmites Start Planning For Field Day Competition

By KATHY PORTER
Special Writer

Sept. 11 marked the end of summer vacation as 2,010 slightly drawn but sunburned faces entered the halls of Seaholm High. Some of the new faces looked a little lost but now after almost two full weeks the confusion is over and everyone is getting into the swing of things. After school and during the week ends, students have been busily preparing and planning for that fateful day, Oct. 14, otherwise known as Field Day. Meetings and practices are constantly going on somewhere.

The competition among the three classes will be exceptionally keen this year. Each class will be vying for the traditional cider barrel, the symbol of a Field Day victory. Viki Hogan is chairman for the senior class, while Diane Zube and Barb Hall are leading the juniors and sophomores.

IOWA TESTING was recently completed by the sophomores and seniors on the mornings of Sept. 21-23. Juniors were only tested one morning.

Six new foreign exchange students are attending Seaholm this year. Four of them have come to America on the YFU (Youth For Understanding) program and two have come on the AFS (American Field Service) program.

The YFU students include Jurgen Schwartz from Oldenburg, Germany, who will be spending the year with John Martin at 250 Cranbrook. Also from Germany is Anke Theiss from the town of Berka. She is staying with Chris Meyer of 979 Oakland.

FROM SALTSJÖBODEN, Sweden, comes Eva Kramming who is staying with Sue Cargill at 422 Fairfax. Sanneke Bolhuis comes to Birmingham from Rotterdam, Netherlands, and is staying with Ginny Wagner of 750 Ardmore.

The two new AFS students arrived in Birmingham Aug. 16. Regula Allensbach will be staying with Kathie Davis for this year and Fredrico Oliveri with Mark Waterman. More than $170 was obtained by Seaholm volunteers in the march against Leukemia sponsored by Danny Thomas. The nation-wide drive was to help support St. Jude Children's Research hospital in Memphis, Tenn.

The hospital's purpose is to fight against childhood diseases which destroy and cripple thousands of youngsters each year. Mary Gardner, platoon leader for this area, organized a group from Seaholm.

Solicitors from this group were Bev Worham, Diane Claus, Nancy Zeis, Mike Quinn, Lisa Makie, Jean Coleville, Michelle Lalonde, Melinda Farron, May Blodgett and Barb Siebert.

Seven Seaholmites were given the honor to attend Interlochen National Music Camp this past summer. The camp is made up of students from all over the country who are drawn together by the common love of art and music and the desire to improve.

PHOEBE HUNTER, Margie Warnock and Ellen Lindner were members of the All-state high school orchestra. They participated in two Sunday concerts during their stay, one of which was broadcast over the radio.

Peggy Boyles, Jeff Woodward, Kitty Kryker and Jan Fry attended the high school band session.

Student Government Set at Sacred Heart

On Wednesday, Sept. 9, with the reopening of school, the names of this year's student government were announced. Mary Jo Slavsky is president; Kitty Shannon, vice president; Mary Pat McGough, Michele Russo and Kathy Westlake, the other officers.

Sophomore representatives on the student council include: Melanie Baer, Melinda Churches, Ann Conklin, Denise King, Mary Helen Lorenz and Mary Viscon.

At the same assembly, NEET awards were presented to Adele Margrave, Mickey Mathews, Marie Russo, Kathy Sehn, Melanie Baer, Melinda Churches, Mary Forbes, Barbara Healy, Jane Johnston, Denise King, Mary Helen Lorenz, Ann Mahony, Alga Manikoff, Mary Ellen Quinn and Mary Viscon.

AT A RECENT school meeting, Melinda Churches, Barbara Healy and Mary Ellen Quinn spoke on the Summer School of Catholic action, a week-long program they attended in Chicago in August. Their talk is the first of several reports the students will give on this summer's Catholic action.

Preparations are being made for Glee Club. Under the direction of Mother Seitz, the club will present a Christmas program. Members met on Wednesday, Sept. 16, to select songs for the program.

Michele Russo and Mary Pat McGough organized a summer hockey camp two weeks before the opening of school. More than 25 girls attended daily practices and games under the instruction of Miss Ruth Myers, the hockey coach.

Officers of the Committee of Games, Mary Pat McGough, Michele Russo, Kitty Shannon, Adrienne Szczepanski, Mary Alice Woodbeck, Ina Broeman and Midge Moran began directing hockey practices Tuesday, Sept. 15.

THIS YEAR the students welcomed five new faculty members. Mother Olson and Mrs. Thomas Taylor are teaching in the Middle School; Mrs. Thomas Brown and Miss Caroline Lindeman, in the Kindergarten; and Miss Connors is assisting in the Junior School.

French students in the upper grades learned regrettably that Mrs. Leo Lempe, a faculty member for many years, has left the academy to teach French at Wayne University.

Catholic Press Awards Marianews Top Rating

Marian girls returned from their summer vacations tanned and refreshed Sept. 3. The first couple days were hectic but things have settled down now and work has begun.

The new freshman have been greeted but the graduates have not been totally forgotten.

We received news that six of our alumni have won scholarships from the State of Michigan Scholarship Program, ranging from $700 to $800, which are renewable.

The girls are: Catherine Ambrosiano, Ginny Cissell, Kathy Darga, Shirley Devine, Mary Elizabeth Reardon and Kathy Sullivan.

AND WHILE WE are on the subject of last year, congratulations are in order for the staff of the 1963-64 Marianews, especially the co-editors, Claudia Coyer and Kathleen Doyle.

The Marianews received an All-Catholic rating, the highest possible, from the Catholic Press Association at Marquette, Mich. Out of a possible 1,000 points, Marianews merited 835.

All the newspapers were judged on such areas as their service to the community, editorial content, uniformity of style, grammar and headline construction.

The staff was especially complemented on their ability to promote the general welfare of the school, not only that of individual groups but proper attention to all classes.

The Student Council held their annual summer workshop at the end of August. The purpose was to draw up plans for the coming year.

One of the ideas adopted was the establishing of the "Ear"—a suggestion box in the shape of a human ear. All suggestions will be commented on by way of a bulletin board designed for this purpose.

DETAILS OF a "tree record hop" were also worked out. The proceeds helped pay for the many oak, maple and crabapple which will soon be planted on Marian's grounds.

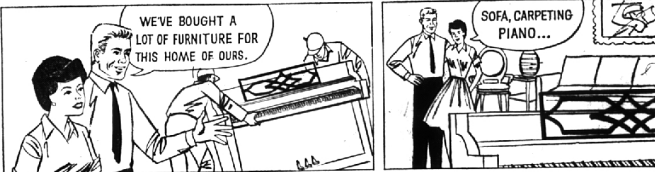

This year's seniors have been looking forward to the annual retreat at Port Sanilac to be held the week ends of Sept. 25, Oct. 2 and 10.

They have been warned not to expect feathered mattresses and plush carpets but this hasn't done anything to dampen the spirits of the retreatants. The purpose of the retreats is to give the girls an opportunity to think about their future.

A system of air-borne television will be used in the English, history and government classes this year. The well-known MPAT program will aid and implement class lectures.

We look into the long avenue of the future and see the good there is for each one of us to do, when we realize after all what a beautiful thing it is to work, and live, and be happy.

—Robert Louis Stevenson
