

Bloomfield Blossoms

Glimpses into the History of Bloomfield Township and Bloomfield Hills, Michigan
by Kay Smith – 1976

Table of Contents

Pages	Subject
2 – 3	Dedication
4 – 5	Foreword
6 – 9	Evolution of the Township
10 - 21	Bloomfield Residents: The Important and Famous
22 – 23	Fish – Benedict House
24 – 25	Sodon Lake: Mysterious Still Waters
26 – 29	World Famous Architects
30 – 31	Bloomfield's Climate
32 - 37	Township Leaders Speak: Homer Case & Deloris Little
38 – 47	Alexis de Tocqueville & Gustave de Beaumont
48 – 55	Geology, Mastodon, and American Indians
56 - 59	Early Surveyor's Reports – and Correction 1818
60 – 71	Earliest Settlers
72 – 73	The Hunter House – Earliest Frame House
74 - 79	Search for Oldest House in Township
80 – 93	Founding and Centennial Families
94 – 97	The Railroad comes to Bloomfield
98 – 99	Civil War Memorial
100 – 101	Early Schools
102 – 103	The Long, Quiet Victorian Period
104 – 109	The Automobile and Interurban
110 – 113	Country Clubs Oakland Hills, Forest Lake, and other clubs
114 – 125	Farms become Subdivisions
126 – 127	Bloomfield Hills Clubs: BHCC, BOHC, the Village Club
128 – 129	More on Cranbrook – The Meeting House
130 – 131	The "Hills" Churches
132 – 133	Early Suburban Residences
134 – 137	Cranbrook Jewels - Architecture & Art
138 - 139	Bloomfield Hills Government & City Hall
140 – 143	Contemporary Houses in the Hills
144 – 145	Natural Beauty Road – Wing Lake Road
146 – 147	Bloomfield Township Hall – Old & New
148 – 151	More Churches in Bloomfield Area
152 – 153	Bloomfield Twp. Public Library – 1963
154 – 155	Contemporary Schools – Two School Districts
156 – 157	First OC Probate Court – Met in Bloomfield
158	Tribute in Memoriam – Arno L. Hulet Supervisor, Treasurer, and Historian
159	Bibliography and Acknowledgements
160	Gregor Affleck House – 1941 (Back Cover)